Daly City Assails S. F. Opposition to Annex

Daly City officials last week posted a verbal "no trespassing" sign for the benefit of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

The officials objected to a protest lodged by the supervisors against the city's annexation of the inhabited area of Bayshore City, which includes the Cow Palace.

The supervisors had backed up an objection voiced against the annexation by the Cow Palace's board of directors.

Daly City Councilman Bob St. Clair and City Attorney Paul Hupf voiced the city's annoyance at the supervisors' action at a "meet your future government" program held by the Bayshore Citizens' committee at Lawson hall in Bayshore City.

St. Clair told approximately 100 Bayshore citizens that "the city council was very upset with the action of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors." And he added:

"We have always had a good neighbor relationship with them. We don't appreciate them butting into something that is not their concern.

"As far as we're concerned, this has been a political move caused by pressure, perhaps from Sacramento."

Hupf said Daly City "couldn't find one good reason why the Cow Palace directors are objecting to the annexation or why the board of supervisors is supporting the protest."

Inquiries Received

The city attorney said he had received inquiries from the state attorney general's office about the annexation.

"They couldn't be objecting for cost reasons, he said, "because the Cow Palace is a state-owned facility and Daly City could not impose ad valorum taxes on it as it could upon businesses.

"They couldn't be opposed because of interference in operation," Hupf said, "because it is run by a commission of persons appointed by the governor." He added:

"Some mention has been made that they like to be in San Mateo county but associated with San Francisco. If they want to change the name to the San Francisco Cow Palace, I certainly don't see anything to stop them."

Hupf said that the objection of the directors alone could not defeat the annexation. The county assessor has valued the Cow Palace property at $190,000. This represents about 11 per cent of the assessed valuation in the area to be annexed. At least 50 per cent is required to halt the annexation.

"The board of directors at the Cow Palace do not live here," he said. "They have no concern over the finances or the development of the area. It appears they are just against change." And he added:

"We will not accept dictation from persons outside our community."

Welcome Assured

St. Clair assured the Bayshore citizens that if Bayshore is incorporated into Daly City, they would be "welcomed and treated on an equal basis with the citizens in the present boundaries of the city."

He said: "We're encouraged with the enthusiastic support of Bayshore citizens in seeking to join Daly City.

"As I see the storm clouds of opposition against the annexation forming and I look outside at the stormy weather, I am encouraged by the turnout tonight. I know that if there's a fight we can depend on you."

Hupf also reassured the Bayshore citizens, saying: "We promise to give you good, efficient government. You will be receiving high quality services."

Councilmen Francis Pacelli and Edward Dennis and Chamber of Commerce officials Frank Martorana and Herb Sharpe also were present.

Mayor Joseph Verducci was away at a San Francisco State teachers' conference in Asilomar.

ATTORNEY REVIEWS CASE

Brisbane Annex To Be Appealed

Thomas Bocci, legal representative for the Bayshore Citizens committee, last week told a group of approximately 100 Bayshore residents not to "lose heart" with a recent superior court decision that Brisbane's annexation of 10,000 acres of industrial land in the area was legal.

"We have been dealing with a county court and a city government", he said. "If an out of town judge had been appointed to hear the case, the judgment probably would have been different.

"This round is only one of several that will follow."

Bocci said he plans to file an appeal to a higher court—questioning the legality of Brisbane's proceedings and annexation of lands over the protest of a public agency—the Bayshore Sanitary district.

The lawyer said he was heartened that Judge Louis DeMatteis refused to make a finding on the contention that there are at least 18 registered voters residing in the area being annexed by Brisbane.

Brisbane is adding the acreage under the Uninhabited Territory Act which requires there be under 12 voters in the territory.

DeMatteis felt that the ruling was not necessary after Brisbane modified its annexation map to exclude the territory in question.

"By not making a decision, he gives us the opportunity to appeal," Bocci said.

Responding to a question on whether the court battle would result in shifting the Bayshore properties to Daly City over the objections of Southern Pacific, Bocci said, the area could be "gerrymandered or altered to exclude the SP properties and we could get as much as we can."

Verducci Denies 'Ulterior' Plan On City's Part

Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City Thursday assured San Francisco's Mayor George Christopher that Daly City's annexation of land that includes the Cow Palace "will in no way encroach upon the interests of San Francisco."

In a letter to San Francisco's chief executive, Verducci expressed surprise that the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco county has voted to support a stand by the Cow Palace directors, opposing the annexation move.

He said it could be "implied" that Daly City's motives were "ulterior." And he added:

"Let me assure you this is not the case. The annexation of Daly City is motivated by and based on the demand by 600 or more of the approximately 800 voters of Bayshore City.

"Inclusion of the area involved is both logical and necessary."

Verducci observed that Daly City has studied the move care-

High School Pay Raises Are Granted

In a half-hour session Monday night Jefferson Union High school trustees gave teachers a 7.4-7.6 per cent pay increase and approved the hiring of two central administrative aides.

The trustees adopted a new salary schedule for 1963-64 that will put Jefferson teachers in what Superintendent Edward Morgan termed "a comfortable middle position" as compared with other Bay Area teaching salaries.

Trustees adopted the pay increase schedule just as asked for by the teachers. Superintendent Morgan had said earlier that the pay increase will add $162,000 to the budget, but can be handled within present revenues.

Jefferson trustees approved the superintendent's request for a central purchasing agent for the district and an additional administrative aide to relieve the superintendent of some of his duties.

Commenting on a Stanford university report that added recommending five positions to the central administrative staff, Morgan said the two new positions would be sufficient at this time. He said that the Jefferson district had been successful in giving principals responsibility for overseeing educational policies and plant management at their schools and that this decentralized plan should continue.

Morgan said that the psychological services recommended for the district by the Stanford report were needed, but would involve more of a program than the district presently is able to support. He said the school's counselling

JEFF ELEMENTARY

Board's Appraisal Methods Attacked By D.C. Resident

By RON BATES

Appraisal methods used by the Jefferson Elementary school district were strongly assailed Monday night at a meeting of the district's board of trustees.

The criticism was levied by a resident of the district, Matthew Murray of 138 Vista Grande avenue, who also is a Daly City police sergeant.

Murray told the trustees that although only one appraiser, Con Shea, actually looked over his home, two apraisals were submitted to the district.

The second appraisal was submitted by Ralph Reilly, who, Murray said, only saw his basement when he was helping Shea measure it.

The appraisals were being made in connection with the purchase of 19 parcels of land for the expansion of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary school in Daly City.

Murray's home is one of 12 parcels of land remaining to be purchased.

The Board, early in the meeting, authorized the District Attorney's office to begin condemnation proceedings on the unpurchased land.

"How Mr. Reilly, having only seen my basement, could determine the worth of my home and later, in his appraisal report, actually comment on the condition of the house, is certainly beyond my scope of comprehension," Murray said in a prepared statement.

The law requires two independent appraisals, he pointed out.

"The honesty and integrity of both the Board members and the employees of the school district are beyond reproach," Murray said.

"However, . . . by your present processes of selection of appraisers you leave yourself open to charges of 'favoritism'—at least," he said.

Shea and Reilly "have been almost exclusive appraisers for the School district for 21 and nine years, respectively," Murray said.

"Does not this long association and friendship between the Board and the appraisers leave room for laxity on the part of one or both parties?"

Suggests Change

Murray suggested a change in the process of selecting appraisers and called for a complete reappraisal of his property by "competent and trustworthy appraisers."

He said he would like to see a complete impartial investigation of the matter and suggested a Grand Jury investigation. And he added that he plans to submit a resume of the facts to the Grand Jury.

Superintendent of Schools Richard Foster said the district received the two appraisals "based on the licenses of the individuals who performed them."

"There has never been a question before by the Department of Finance on them," he said.

Brown to Speak at Ceremony

Gov. Edmund G. Brown will speak at ground breaking ceremonies May 11 for the new $8-million Mary's Help hospital in Daly City, hospital officials have announced.

The Governor will share the speaker's platform with the Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, archbishop of the San Francisco Diocese.

The ceremonies will begin at 1:30 p.m. and will officially inaugurate construction of the 250-bed facility.

The hospital will be erected on an 11-acre hilltop site—towering above the intersection of Junipero Serra boulevard and Eastmoor avenue.

Bids for construction of the facility will be opened at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the present St. Mary's Help building in San Francisco.

Eight well-known Bay Area construction firms have enetered bids.

Completion of the hospital is expected to fulfill what surveys have indicated is the most pressing need for hospital service in Northern California.

Thew new facility will serve Daly City, South San Francisco, Pacifica, the southern part of San Francisco and neighboring unincorporated areas.

No School Next Week!

Parochial school children will begin their Easter vacation Thursday of next week. They'll return to classes Wednesday, April 17.

Calico Arrives

Biggest Spotted Mule Is Here!

By LOIS McNALLY

Calico, a gentle spotted mule who at 1600 pounds is underweight, arrived in the Bay Area this weekend.

Billed as the "biggest spotted mule in the world," Calico will be exhibited in the Junior Grand National Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Cow Palace by his new co-owner, rodeo clown "Crazy Chuck" Nalley of Pacifica, pictured above with the mule.

Calico, part Appaloosa horse and part mule, stands eight and a half feet high from the tip of his ears to the ground and six feet four from the withers down. Nalley, who brought Calico to the Shamrock Ranch in Pacifica from Oklahoma, says that with good food and conditioning, he expects to have Calico back up to his top form at 2000 pounds.

A day's rations for the huge animal would include a half bale of hay and 10 pounds of grain—or about $21 a week for board. "All he's done since he arrived in Pacifica, is eat," says Nalley.

He plans to exhibit Calico in rodeos in Washington and Oregon after his debut at the Cow Palace. Calico has a repertoire of some 15 tricks—including bowing, counting and shaking hands.

Now eight years old, Calico was captured in Australia and brought to this country when he was two. With his California debut, Calico is giving up the rather dull life of being on exhibit at an amusement park for the laughs and excitement of the rodeo circuit.

The trip from Oklahoma to California was not to his liking, however. Nalley said the mule got stiff from the long drive in the horse trailer and they had to take a two-day layover near Bakersfield.

Let's Hunt For the Eggs!

It's time to hone up your sleuthing tools again!

Daly City's annual Easter Egg Hunt is in the planning stages and indications are it will be one of the largest ever held.

The hunt is sponsored by the city's Recreation department. Charles E. Vincent, director, said the sleuthing will go on Saturday, April 13, at all school sites where playground programs are being held.

Two of the biggest programs will be in Westlake and Marchbanks parks.

WITH S.F. STATE COLLEGE

District Studies Mutual Help

The possibility of a working arrangement between the North San Mateo County Sanitation district and San Francisco State college to improve the efficiency of the district's treatment plant in Daly City was discussed Monday by the district's board of directors.

Dr. D. W. Fletcher, chairman of the microbiology department at San Francisco State, appeared before the board to present his views on using the college's extensive laboratory facilities to help the district.

Fletcher recommended the college and the district work together for "mutual benefits."

He said that the school has equipment, which would cost the district "in excess of $10,000" to set up and operate.

He suggested that necessary routine tests be run at the college, which is less than a mile away from the plant.

The college, in turn, would derive benefits of study and practice while aiding the plant operator. There is also the possibility of graduate students engaging in research and in long-range planning at the plant without disrupting the normal operation, he said.

"With an expanding population in Daly City, the demands of the plant will be increased," said Fletcher.

He cited the expense of the laboratory and the space limitations of the plant.

He praised the work of plant operator Larry Guiffra saying: "His many awards attest to his ability." And he added:

"The plant is being run as efficiently as possible now," he said. "But with an expanding population there will be increased demands."

Guiffra said he would prefer to run the tests at the plant.

"If a problem comes up, we discuss it together," he said. "The operators take a personal interest in it."

Eugene M. Howell, county public health engineer and a member of the California Water Pollution board, sent a letter to the board saying it would be advisable to have laboratories at sewage plants.

"It would establish the efficiency of treatment plants," he wrote.

"Extensive testing on the beach would be a waste of money," Howell said. "The prop-

Anti-Erosion Plan Hinges On Congress

Pacifica's critical shoreline erosion problem once again hangs on Congressional approval, City Councilman Harold Feyge told Council members last week.

Approval for a U. S. Corps of Engineers' three-year $56,000 survey of the eroding beaches and cliff areas was approved by federal, state and city agencies last summer. The cost of the survey was to be shared jointly.

However, last fall Congress passed legislation making it possible for the federal government to bear the full cost of the project. As a result, Pacificans must get Congressional approval for the erosion project all over again, Feyge told Councilmen.

Feyge has been working on the erosion problem for some time. He asked the Council to send a letter to Congressman J. Arthur Younger, stressing the urgency of the project.

ARMY PVT. DAVE STAUB

Staub Joins Pan-Am Team

When the 12-man Pan American cycling team assembles in Miami next weekend to enplane for Sao Paulo, Brazil, the Army and Daly City will be jointly represented by 23-year-old Private Dave Staub of 386 Eastmoor avenue, now attached to the U.S. Army Personnel Center Transient company at Oakland Army Terminal.

Private Staub vigorously pedaled to first place in his specialty, the 1000-meter time trial, during the Pan American cycling trials held March 22-24 at the Encino Velodrome.

He waged an unrelenting, uphill battle to defeat five-time National Senior champ Jack Disney.

The 1000-meter time trial is raced in two stages. The times are then totaled to decide the winner. It is the only event determined in this manner.

Disney posted a 1:13.9 for the first trial to Staub's 1:15.

Compelled to haul out all the stops, Staub was clocked in 1:13.6, fastest time of the competition, in his second effort. Disney fell back to 1:15, losing out to his younger opponent when the times were added.

The Daly City cyclist has been racing competitively since his junior high school days. He will be trying to avenge a one-second defeat suffered during the 1959 Pan American Games held in Chicago. A Brazilian cyclist won the event in 1:12.3. Staub took the silver medal with a time of 1:12.4.

"It's going to be tougher this time than last," predicted Staub, a shade pessimistic. "This is their summer and they should be in shape. Last time it was August and that's almost winter for South America.

"Besides," he grinned at the comparison, "how about the home-court advantage? Isn't that worth a touchdown or something?"

Qualifying as a member of the Olympic Cycling Team is the ultimate objective of Staub's uncompromising time table.

He was named alternate on the 1960 squad but all members stayed sound and the team went to Rome without him. He has an unwavering eye set on Tokyo, site of the '64 Games.

He won the National Junior championship at Orlando, Fla., in 1956, the year Disney was capturing his third consecutive senior title. Last year, he won the Northern California championship and placed eighth in national competition.

Miss Morabe A Runnerup

Jefferson High school's Evelyn Morabe was chosen as one of three runners-up in regional finals of the annual Lions club speech contest, conducted Thursday night in the Villa hotel in San Mateo.

The regional competition was won by Robert Glasser of Millbrae, a student at Mills High school.

The other runners-up were students from Woodside Private and Palo Alto High schools.

Miss Morabe, a junior, represented the Brisbane Lions club. She had defeated speakers from South San Francisco, San Bruno, Pacifica and Daly City Lions clubs to reach the regional finals.

Glasser now will compete in district competition to be conducted in Hoberts in Lake county.

er place to sample is in the manholes," he said.

The closest testing facility is in San Mateo.

The engineer was referring to testing on Thornton Beach, where the district is building a 2500-foot submarine outfall line at an estimated cost of $311,500.

The possibility of using San Francisco State facilities had not been discussed with Howell, according to the board.

Because of the proximity of San Francisco's Lake Merced storm tunnel, the San Mateo county beach is getting some of the sewage from its neighbor to the north.

Appraisal Action Is Criticized

"When we hire licensed people we assume they do their job."

Foster said there has been no conversation between himself or the appraisers "before, during or after the appraisals."

"They are supposed to investigate the property in the best possible way," Foster said.

If the case goes to court, he said, they will have to defend their appraisals as witnesses in a court of law.

Murray said the board "on its own merits" should investigate.

"The fact is that you are paying public monies for a job . . ." he noted.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas pointed out that the two appraisers are licensed by the state and are not employees of the district.

"If something is amiss, you should take it before the Grand Jury," he said.

Mrs. Evelyn Weckerle, 130 Vista Grande, supported Murray's charges saying, "If Reilly were to walk into this room with six men, I wouldn't know him because I've never seen him."

Mrs. Weckerle said her home also was appraised by Shea and Reilly.

The board declined to halt action authorizing the district to go into condemnation proceedings on the remaining parcels of land to be purchased.

IN KINDERGARTEN

End of Triple Sessions Seen

Parents of children attending Westview and Pacific Heights schools in Pacifica will be asked to decide whether pupils should be transported out of the area or go on double sessions next fall if additions to the schools are not completed.

Laguna Salada School Administrator Robert Fizer said this week it was expected that the school additions would be completed in time for the fall session. If not, he said, a meeting with the parents would be arranged by the school officials and the P-TA.

Cabrillo school should be ready for occupancy by Linda Mar pupils next fall, Fizer said.

With one new school and two additions, Laguna Salada school district will be able to put its kindergartens on double instead of triple sessions for the first time in its history, school board members were told.

Next fall for the first time, children from the Fairmont subdivision, south of Daly City, and Portola Highlands of San Bruno will enter Laguna Salada schools.

The school district expects to enroll 125 Fairmont children and 64 Portola Highlands children then—with another 200 to 250 added during the school year.

Grades kindergarten to third from Portola Highlands will go to Pacific Heights school while third to eighth graders will go to Cabrillo.

Miss Pacifica Contestants to Model at Show

Six of the Miss Pacifica contestants will model at the Lionness club's Annual Fashion Show Monday.

Showing fashions from Mode O'Day and the Linda Mar Dress Shop will be Jean Hankins, Michelene Hughes, Sandra Kester, Elaine Herman, Sandra Finley, and Patricia Bushard.

This week will be the kickoff for the Miss Pacifica Pageant ticket sales. Each girl will receive tickets to sell for the Chamber of Commerce benefit. The contestant who sells the most tickets will receive a prize.

Mrs. Nita Buchanan and Mrs. Ann Torrigino who direct the Miss Pacifica contest for the Chamber have been holding weekly informal training sessions with the candidates.

Planners Surprised By Deficit

Pacifica Planning Commissioners told the City Council last week they had no idea they had gone over their budget and that they had never authorized special studies that caused the deficit.

City Manager Karl Baldwin had reported to councilmen that an additional $3500 was needed in the Planning Commission budget to pay for planning consultant services until the end of the fiscal year.

He said the budget had been exceeded because of special surveys made by the city's planning consultant on a parking problem on Palmetto avenue, the proposed Linda Mar mobile home park, Linda Mar development 29 in Rockaway Beach and a study of growth problems in the southeastern section of the city.

Planning Commissioner Jimmy Fox told councilmen he didn't like to see the department run on a deficit. He added that the Commission had never been told what its budget was or that it was being exceeded.

Asserting that "we are not a bunch of school kids," Fox said the commissioners should be apprised of the cost of planning services.

Commissioners Sam Turpin and Don McManus agreed that "the subject of money had never been mentioned" in any of the Planning Commission meetings

Coast Home Is Watched

Pacifica City Council last week asked for a special police report on efforts to stop the persecution of a Linda Mar couple by vandals.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lund have been harassed repeatedly since they moved into their home at 1112 Tapis way in January, officials say.

Vandals have turned on water in the back yard, flooding the patio, pulled up shrubs and flowers and have thrown garbage on the porch.

Last week, Lund found sugar dumped in his gasoline tank.

The acts of vandalism occur during the day whenever they leave the house, the Lunds report. None of the neighbors have reported similar harassment.

The Lunds say they know no reason why they should be persecuted. They report that they are being "driven out of our minds" by the vandalism.

This week, the Lund residence was put under close surveilance by police officers.

"We are confident that our close cooperation on all matters of mutual concern can continue when our common boundary is extended by the annexation of Bayshore City to Daly City.

Pacifica Chorus Seeks More Men

Men's voices are needed to fill the ranks of the Pacifica Community chorus.

Interested tenors or baritones are invited to join in rehearsals beginning at 8 p.m. Friday, in the band room at Oceana High school. The rehearsals will continue weekly.

The chorus' next engagement will be in the all-Pacifica Arts Festival on Mother's Day weekend. Last week 14 singers performed at the official dedication of Ortega school.

Director of the civic singing group is Denis de Coteau, a professional musician who is studying for his doctorate at Stanford university.

DALY CITY RECREATION COMMISSION

They Work at Providing Play

5 Members Map Outline For Leisure

Once a month, five people meet on their own time so that the leisure time of thousands will be adequately provided for.

The five people with "time in their hands" are the members of the Daly City Recreation commission who meet evry fourth Tuesday at the War Memorial Community center.

The Commissioners work with department head Charles Vincent and his assistant Edward Tomasello to decide and plan the activities of the department.

The bigness of the job is indicated by last year's daily attendance at 21 recreation facilities supervised by department personnel. Approximately 320,550 persons, primarity children, attended hem.

The commission also oversees the park system in Daly City, which includes beautification features such as the palm trees along the dividing strips of major streets.

The commissioners are Arthur "Dutch" Elston, Edmund Cavagnaro, Louis J. Larcomb, Wilfred O'Rourke and Mrs. Ann Eason.

Reasons Similar

Their reasons for being members of the appointive commission are as similar as their background are varied.

Mrs. Eason is known affectionately by people who work with her as "Mrs. Recreation" in Daly City.

She was one of the first who fought for organized recreation when she was president of the General Pershing P-TA in 1934.

Mrs. Eason was appointed to the recreation commission in 1938 and has been a member since then. During the war, she and two others operated a servicemen's club at the corner of Crocker and Mission streets.

"I'm for the youth of Daly City," she said. "I'll do anything in my power to help them. I believe that by having good recreation it will help to keep juvenile delinquency down."

An example of the Daly City youth program is the junior teen clubs that were organized towards the end of last year.

Mrs. Eason has lived in Daly City since 1924.

Next on seniority on the commission is Ed Cavagnaro, a former Daly City councilman from 1936 to 1944.

The 70-year-old commissioner who was born in what is now St. Francis Heights, was appointed to the recreation and park commission following his retirement from the council.

He is termed "the father of Marchbanks Park" because of his efforts to get a baseball diamond in the late 1930s and early 1940s. The park was dedicated on June 5, 1941.

"We had ball teams come from as far as Sacramento to play at Marchbanks," he recalled. "Many major leaguers such as Bill Rigney, manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, played ball there."

He also was involved in the purchase of the property where Lincoln Park now is situated.

Arthur "Dutch" Elston, currently heads the five-man commission.

He was one of the orginal members of the San Francisco 49er football team when it was organized in 1946. He played offensive center and defensive linebacker. He now is the football coach at City College of San Francisco.

He Was Curious

Elston first joined the commission abut six years ago because he was "curious to get a look into the workings of community government. You see quite a bit of it by serving."

His philosophy: "When a person lives and raises a family in a community and sees some of its needs, he should try to get out and do something about it. That's why I am on this commission."

Louis Larcombe, a banker at the Bank of America, has been a member of the commission for over eight years. He was appointed to the recreation commission after serving three years on the fire commission.

He is one of the original settlers in the Westlake area, moving there 13 years ago.

Larcombe is on the commission because he gets "personal satisfaction in doing something for the community rather than just talking about it."

The commissioner said he enjoys working with the present group very much.

"We can discuss things and work out problems very well," he said.

Bill O'Rourke is the youngest member of the recreation board, both in age and in length of service.

He, like Larcombe and Elstone is on the commission because he is interested "in doing rather than talking."

"A lot of people just complain without bothering to find out what is really going on," he said.

O'Rourke is a route salesman for the Borden company in Burlingame.

Pacifica Hires New Inspector

Fastest growing department in Pacifica city government is its new Building Inspection department which has just added its third inspector.

Last month the city council authorized the hiring of John H. Hartzel of Belmont, a former FHA inspector, on a temporary basis to keep up with the heavy construction schedule going on in the city.

Chief Inspector Richard Taylor had reported to the council that the construction of Doelger homes in the Fairmont section north of the city was occupying most of the inspector's time this spring with many more homes to be approved, especially in Oddstad developments in the southern section of the city. To date this year, 250 permits for new buildings, alterations and additions have been issued in Pacifica.

Fireworks Go On in Pacifica

Fireworks continued to be a fiery issue in Pacifica this week as a group of civic organizations was again split over suppliers.

Paul Groshowski of the Moose Lodge and Emmet Nannery of the Manor Village Improvement club objected to the wholesaler selected by the group to supply fireworks.

By city ordinance, fireworks are sold in Pacifica only by community organizations licensed by the city. An earlier dispute arose when eight organizations applied for six licenses available.

This dispute was settled when two groups withdrew their applications in the interest of harmony. Basil Gladieux, manager of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, urged the six groups to buy all their fireworks supplies from one wholesaler so that the city could have a free display on the Fourth.

Nannery and Groshowski objected to the choice of wholesaler and announced their clubs would pull out of the group and sell fireworks on their own.

Hospital Build Permit Approved

A permit for the construction of Mary's Help hospital was approved last week by the Daly City Planning commission.

The commission approved the construction of the hospital to a height of 150 feet in an unclassified zone on property west of Junipero Serra boulevard in south Daly City.

Ground-breaking ceremonies and a start on construction of the 250-bed facility are scheduled for later this month.

The commission also approved the substitution of a 32 by three-foot arrow for a 70 by 20-foot billboard at the corner of Skyline and Alemany boulevards by Henry Doelger Builders incorporated.

The commission had denied an application for the construction of the large billboard and had asked that plans for a smaller one be submitted.

The oversize arrow is a directional and advertising sign for the new Doelger Fairmont development in north Pacifica.

In other action, the commission approved use permits for signs at 6899 Mission street, 6001 Mission street, and 198 Los Banos avenue.

The commission also approved the construction of an auto parts store at Sullivan street near Eighty-eighth street.

SSF Mermen Barely Edge Jeff, 48-47

It seems like intense rivalry prevails, no matter what the sport.

Last week, the South San Francisco High school swimmers and the Jefferson High mermen battled it out event-for-event until the final lap, with the Warriors squeaking out on top, 48-47.

The Warriors were led by two double winners, while Jefferson had a double winner in Larry Ahuna. Ahuna scored firsts in the 50 yard freestyle and 100 yard freestyle. He was also a member of Jefferson's winning free relay team.

In the Class B meet, the Indians got revenge, beating the Warriors, 49-28. Jim Iversen paced that victory with two wins, including a new school record in the 200 yard freestyle. Iversen reversed the distance in 2:27, erasing the old record of 2:31.9.

In the Class C meet, South SF won, 39-61. Jeff's Ed Partier tied the school record in the 50 backstroke with a 31.9 clocking.

El Camino Turns Back Bearcats

The San Mateo High school Bearcats have learned how to hit the ball, and now all they have to learn is how to stop the flow of errors.

The 'Cat nine outhit El Camino High school last week, 7-5, but lost the contest, 7-4, as they committed six miscues.

The Colts from South San Francisco got off winging in the first inning when they scored two runs, highlighted by Brian Cute's double and Mike Tyler's single.

The flood gates opened for three more in the second when two walks, a fielder's choice and two errors built the Colts' lead up to 5-0.

San Mateo hurler Mike Steigler, who came on in the second, at this point, started pitching flawless ball for San Mateo. His one lapse came in the sixth when Hal Westmoreland poled out a 325-foot home run over the centerfield wall to give the Colts an insurance run.

San Mateo got one run in the fourth when Tom Findley walked, LaMotte singled and Abe Doctorlero hit a sacrifice fly.

A San Mateo rally in the sixth, lead by Findley, Long, Doctorlero and Larry Wilson, scored three runs, but fell a like amount short.

Westlake Bowl

THREE of the Westlake ladies' teams are busily preparing for the June 8-9 finals of the Northern California Ladies Team Handicap tournament. Three of the six teams qualifying for the finals are Westlake bowlers who will be competing for the $1000 first prize and $1775 in five other prizes. Local teams and captains are Cardinal Electric with Captain Nellie Witt, Addo-X with Captain Flo Bertsch and The Bombers with Captain Bonnie Birkett.

Phil Hargrove made his farewell appearance in the 805 Scratch league a memorable one as he topped the league with games of 220 and 225 and a 630 series. Phil leaves for Navy duty shortly.

Tuesday night found six hundred series rather common as Cass Castiglioni of the Southgate Mixed Fixes led the parade with a 660 series on a high game of 255. Mercedes Johnson set a record for the ladies as she shot games of 226-202 and 196 for a terrific 624 series in the Ladies' 800 Classic. A great 267 game paved the way for Ray Moisto to lead the Early Fives with a 657 series while Hannon Chan topped the Standard Oil men with 222 and 613. The climax of the evening was two efforts in the American Masters, John Schmidt with 215—618 and Dave Lorin with 224 and 607.

The O'Connor Rug team were crowned winners of the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives league as team members Ruth Maniscalo, Martha Lauer, Pat Tobin, Red Jensen and Harley Lauer received the plaudits of the other league teams. The spring league will get underway next week as the teams hold a warmup session at 6:15 Wednesday, April 3.

Barbara Castronovo took both high game and high series honors as she rolled a 178 game and 486 series to lead the Tuesday morning YWCA league. Maureen Cano led the split converters by picking up the 5-8-10 split.

The Gold Coast classic started off with a bang as over 100 bowlers competed during the opening weekend. This "rich" singles tournament last year awarded over $40,000 in cash prizes with an entry fee of only $4.25. Bowlers may compete any time in either of the two classes, 164 and below or 165 and above. Opening weekend leaders were Rich Hottal and Steve Gotelli in the upper division and John Brown and Red Jenson in the lower group.

Sea Bowl

WHENEVER you mention bowling to me, I think of the people who make the game interesting in this area. In each house there are a few people whose names become almost the same in relation to the leagues they bowl or in any endeavor they attempt. Betty Thomas and the Kings and Queens; Jim Gilbride and the Merchants Handicap; Janet Keefe and the Stardusters; Ruth Dallaire and the Mixed Masters; Bob Wilson and the 860 Scratch, all represent this kind of associative thinking.

At the same time, we can hardly think of these leagues without these people, we can hardly think of coming into the bowl without some of these people being around to kid a little bit about their score, etc. Doug Hodgins, Homer and Edna Smith, Ralph Brant, Sam Perrier, Gil and Dolly Thielen, Jim Kelly, John Lew, Gabby, Seder McKinin, Bill Jones, Dan Uriarte, Betsy Gardner, etc. What we wish to say is simply this—bowling is no better than the people in it and on the coast it's terrific.

Serra Bowl

STEVE NAGY, national bowling champion and member of the Brunswick advisory staff, met his match last week at Serra Bowl when he was defeated by two housewives in a special exhibition contest.

June Lehr and Evelyn Smith, winners of the recent "Beat Steve Nagy" tournament for ladies in the afternoon program, joined forces to combine two one-game totals in an effort to defeat Steve's single stanza. To keep the match even, Nagy was afforded a two-thirds handicap based on the difference between his 210 league average and their 265 combined averages.

When the smoke cleared, June had rolled a 144 tally and Evelyn came in with a 118 score. Steve, obviously not in his top form, scored only 2 strikes in his game and closed with a 158 which, with his 37 pin handicap, gave him a 195 total. Chalk up another victory for the girls in this "man's" world.

Steve proved to be in finer fettle in later matches. Thursday, he faced three Serra stars from the evening leagues. Nagy bowled a two-game elimination against Gary Gil, high-game record holder with 299; Jim Moyle, who rolled a 298 last year, and George Cherolis who won the men's division of the "Beat Nagy" action—the winner to bowl Nagy alone. The box scores:

Navy	235-181—416
Gil	149-137—284
Moyle	199-154—353
Cherolis	221-189—410

In the later match Steve tossed 172, 224 for a 396 total to down Cherolis who posted games of 171 and 170 for a 341 effort.

After the matches, Nagy passed out trophies donated by Serra Bowl to all of the guys and gals who competed against him. If attendance is the ruler against which the success of Steve Navy's appearance here is to be judged, the evening must be counted an overwhelming triumph a spectators overflowed into the parking lot trying to get a glimpse of the star.

CITY HONORS KRAMER

NEW YORK — Barry Kramer of New York university has been named winner of the 1963 Haggerty award as metropolitan New York's outstanding collegiate basketball player. Kramer, teammate Harold Hairston, Nick Werkman of Seton Hall, Jim Raftery of St. Francis and Bob Melvin of Fordham were chosen to the All-Met All-Star team.

Indians Are Without Returning Pitcher

By RON BATES

"BASEBALL is a game of desire. The weakest team could take the title if it jells consistently," according to Steve Mezzera, baseball mentor at Jefferson High.

"If we get a do-or-die attitude and get together as a unit, we could wind up on top."

Mezzera is in his seventh year at Jefferson and hopes to repeat his first year when his Indians, playing in the now-defunct 10-team Peninsula league, took the title.

Mezzera's charges always have been contenders. Only once did they drop to fifth place. They finished second twice and third twice.

The Indians have four return-starters. They are shortstop Larry Keeling, outfielder, Mike Morton, catcher Skip Del Sarto and first-baseman Bob Easley.

"This is the first year I won't have a returning chucker," said Mezzera. "It could be one of our biggest bugaboos this year."

All five of his hurlers are juniors.

STRONGEST pitcher so far has been Art Valdez. He is backed up by combination outfielder - first baseman - pitcher Jerry Sullivan and Martin Ortwig, Don Fisicaro and Mike Gutierrez.

Sullivan, who has the size and potential to be a hitting or pitching power, regularly handles the outfield chores but also sees double duty as a pitcher.

"I hope that batting will be our strongest point," Mezzera said. "We have some long ball hitters who could help us if they develop."

The man with the big stick so far has been Morton who played centrefield last year.

Another hitter coming on is outfielder Jerry Rolling who got the first home run for Jeff against Sequoia last week.

Suullivan and Keeling also have the ability to become power hitters for the Indians, Mezzera said.

DEFENSIVELY speaking, the Indians are strong in the outfield with Sullivan, Morton and Rolling but somewhat weak in the infield.

Keeling, because of his experience, is the key to the infield at shortstop. Al Stoller, a junior up from the soph-frosh team, gives the Indians a potentially strong double play combination, the coach said.

Third-base and catcher are question marks.

Veteran catcher Del Sarto is being pushed for his slot by juniors Al Banfield and Bob Ranking. Mezzera hopes one of them will come through for him.

Mezzera contends the deciding factor in the title race will be the mound staff.

"If it's consistent, you've got a winner," he said.

Pitching is the reason South San Francisco has been picked for the title in the pre-season forecasts. The Warriors are counting heavily on Rich Wickersham, Mezzera said.

"If he has a bad year, they'll be in bad shape."

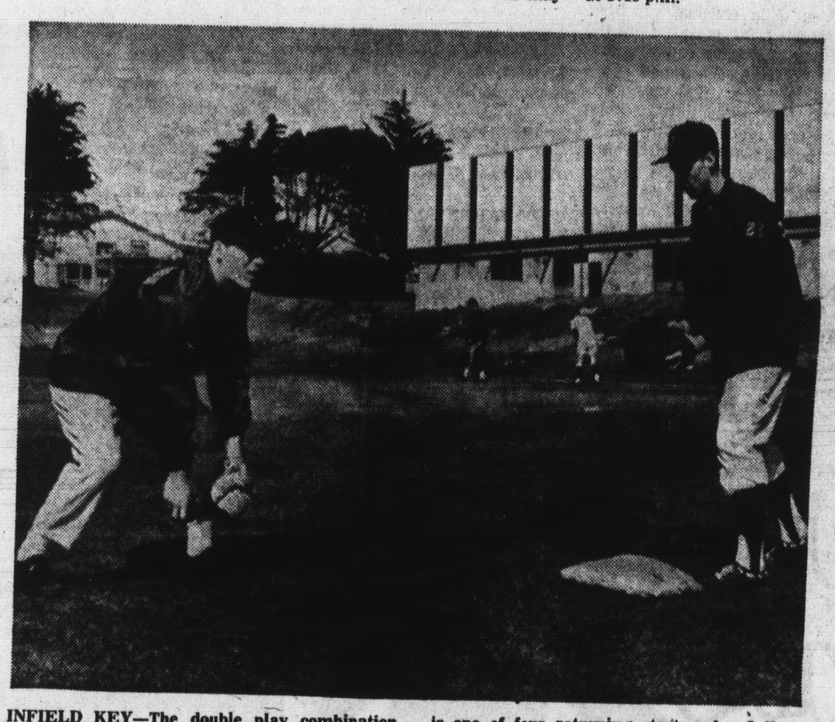

ALL TEAMS in the NPL are fairly equal, offensively and defensively, the Jeff mentor stated. One team may be a little stronger and Oceana may be weak because it's their first year.

"It's been my experience that all the teams have been in the running until the end," he said.

The Indians have a losing record so far, but Mezzera isn't concerned with a winning practice record.

"I use everybody to find a winning combination for the league," he said. "I prefer to bring the whole club along together and improve them as a unit. That way if we have an injury to a key man, he won't be hard to replace."

The Indians' league opener will be at Terra Nova April 19 at 3:15 p.m.

INFIELD KEY—The double play combination of Larry K—eeling to Al Stoller is potentially strong according to coach Steve Mezzara. The infield is built around shortstop Keeling, who is one of four returning starters for Jefferson. Stroller is up from the frosh-soph team (Post-Times Photo)

I DON'T KNOW why all the smirks about Chicago Cub "Athletic Director" Bob Whitlow.

A baseball team having 10 "coaches" sans manager should certainly be entitled to an athletic director.

And besides, give credit to owner Phil Wrigley for at least being original. He's only doing what many owners of mediocre clubs have always done, are doing, and always will do. He's laying smoke screens to hide ineptitude so that he can keep his team in business until a winning cycle develops down on the farms.

Kansas City owner Charley Finley is attempting to dazzle his customers with color (bright blue home uniforms rather than the traditional white with colored trimming) and gadgets (ball-carrying Bugs Bunny who emerges from underground behind home plate when umps need new balls).

Bill Veeck did it with wild promotional stunts ranging from giveaways — like chocolate-covered ants and the hiring of Satchel Paige and a midget to rocket-shooting scoreboards and a hypnotist — to aid St. Louis Brownie hitters (which set hypnosis back 50 years).

Anyone who ever hired Frankie Lane always knew his camouflage would come in the form of zealous trading.

Of course, with Frankie, you paid your money and took your chances. There were times when he went too far.

One time Cardinal owner Fred Saigh got home and suddenly found himself using Walter O'Malley's monogrammed electric tooth brush, which Lane had traded for Saigh's old-fashioned but reliable horse-hair brush — with Fred's gold toothpick as a throw-in.

Which is why O'Malley probably never hired Frankie for fear he'd be traded for Horace Stoneham.

★ ★ ★

OF COURSE, the most common and cheapest smokelaying concept is the rapid firing and hiring of managers. Club owners can do this without the expense of a middle man.

Whitlow says he's going to use IBM computers to help straighten the Cubs out. Only trouble with computers are — they're too objective.

I can picture the following scene:

Whitlow has just fed Univac six months worth of painstakingly compiled data on every Cub team and individual statistic and quirk, including what color underwear Whitlow was wearing the day the Cubs' longest winnnig streak (three) was ended.

After a few breathless seconds of whirring motors and blinking lights he gets the card, which reads: "Your underwear, though slightly snug and conservative, was fine. Get a new team."

★ ★ ★

NOW THAT they're using foam rubber rather than old fashioned sawdust for landing strips on pole vaults, I wonder how long it will take some hot shot mattress company's public relations man to shove his product under the horizontal bar and get testimony from a world record breaker that he had never landed so softly, something like this:

"Landing on a Sleep-hum is like landing on a cloud."

★ ★ ★

WRITING OF TRACK, it's always been my contention that there would be no such thing as "ultimate" or "untouchable" track and field records if only the right kind of incentive could be discovered for each man to encourage him to seek his full potential.

In my case, for instance, my potential in a 100 yard dash would be unlimited if a 6-6, 250 pound bruiser were chasing me with doubled fists.

With greyhounds, it's rabbits. Perhaps many men would respond with live girls riding out in front of them in convertibles.

Roger Bannister, you know, didn't finally break that "impossible" four-minute barrier strictly on speed and endurance.

He had a knowing trainer. Roger was a very reserved and shy young man. So his trainer, with this in mind, rigged a timing mechanism in Roger's trunks which was set so that at the end of four minutes after the beginning of Roger's race, the trunks would fall down.

With that big crowd in attendance, Roger just HAD to run under 4:00 that day.

★ ★ ★

I WONDER WHY it's baseball, football, basketball and soccer GAMES; tennis, wrestling, golf and boxing MATCHES; and swimming and track MEETS.

That kind of thinking ought to be enough to end any column.

Becker's Blast Buries Sharks

A six-run sixth inning, including a grand slam homer by Hillsdale High school's Bob Becker propelled the Knights to a 7-2 Sharks last week in a practice baseball game.

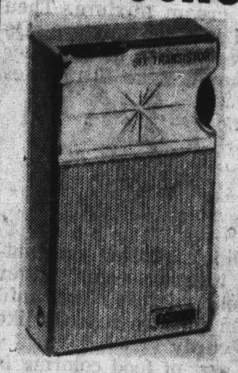

Becker slammed his four bagger with teammates Dob Leydig, Ron Hurst and Tom Floyd on. Earlier in the inning two runs had been forced in by bases on balls.

IN CHILLING WINDS

Rams Top Indians In Track Contest

In a "triangular" track meet Friday, Westmoor and Jefferson met the old man weather with the latter seemingly getting the final edge.

In the record books it will go down as a 61½-50½ North Peninsula league track victory for Westmoor.

But it was the chilling, North wind, in hurricane proportions, which stole the show. Times were slowed down to a pace again and again as the youths fought against the elements of wind, coupled with a sloppy track.

Larry Pettit led the Ram cinderman with two firsts, taking the 120 high hurdles in a slow 17.3, and the 180 low hurdles in 22.2. Pettit has run those events in 16.0 and 20.3, respectively.

Roy Pinelli, whose 21.8 clocking in the 220 is one of the best in Northern California prep track, was also a double winner for the Rams. He scored in the 100 and the 220, the latter in a slow 24.4 due to the stiff wind.

In the most exciting race of the day, Westmoor's Bob Bueker and Jefferson's Al Martinez dueled stride for stride in the mile with Bueker getting up in the last few strides to nip Martinez by two steps.

Joe Wallen scored two wins for the Indians, nabbing the shot put and the discus.

Close Meet Looms for SSF, Rams

The Westmoor Rams take on the South San Francisco Warriors Friday in what may be one of the closest track meets of the dual meet season.

Westmoor coach Kent Herkenrath figures the meet at 53-53 going into the 880-yard relay. The Rams beat the Warriors in the relay event by a scant two inches in the NPL Relays last month.

The meet will pit the two top hurdlers in the league with Westmoor's Larry Pettit and South San Francisco's Gary Roberts. Roberts has run the highs in 16 flat and the lows in 20.8 and Pettit has been clocked at 16.2 in the highs and 20.3 in the lows.

Shutz Sparks Warrior Win

South San Francisco High school's track team, paced by the double victories of weightman Jim Shutz, raced to an easy victory over the Mills Vikings last week in a practice meet for both teams.

The Warriors waxed their varsity opposition, 85-28, as Shutz took two blue ribbons with a creditable 145-10½ throw in the discus and a 47-3 toss in the shotput.

Mills got revenge for the varsity debacle with victories in both lightweight divisions.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

OF ALL the recipes that have come my way recently this is truly the most unusual and exciting. The contributor is Mrs. Rena Noero of 23 Westdale avenue, Daly City. And I'll let her tell you about it herself:

"The story behind this Red Velvet cake is both interesting and expensive. It seems that a woman from Seattle was dining at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York and was deeply impressed with the cake served to her one evening. It looked like red velvet with the beautiful white frosting.

"She asked them if they would send her the recipe. They did but it arrived C.O.D. with a charge of $300. She paid the cost and then consulted her lawyer who told her she could do nothing to get her money back. Since the price of the recipe had been so costly to her, she decided all her friends should enjoy baking and eating this luscious and extravagant Red Velvet Cake."

RED VELVET CAKE

½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
2 tsps. cocoa
2 oz. red food coloring (that's right, that's two one-ounce bottles)
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup buttermilk
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. soda, level

Cream shortening, sugar, eggs. Make a paste with cocoa and food coloring and add to the creamed mixture. Mix salt and vanilla with buttermilk and add alternately with the flour to the cream mixture. Then mix soda and vinegar and fold into the mixture. Do not beat. Bake in two pans nine inches in diameter that have been greased and floured. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

FROSTING

5 Tblsp. flour
1 cup milk
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup butter
1 tsp. vanilla

Cook flour and milk until thick, stirring constantly. Let cool until cold. Cream together sugar, butter and vanilla. Add to the cold flour mixture. Beat until the consistancy to spread. When finished it looks like whipped cream, but until then is curdy.

Double Reminder: the two ozs. of food coloring is the correct amount and this is the reason for the color and texture of red velvet.

☆ ☆ ☆

WELL THERE it is girls, just as Rena sent it to me. I made it and it was a sensation in my family. Make it just as it is described in her recipe, carefully folding in the bubbling vinegar and soda mixture, and you will be delighted with the results. It took mine a little longer to bake, but I have an oven that pouts and sulks at times.

The frosting is so good that I'm going to try it on other cakes. It's too good to reserve for just one cake.

I have a request from a friend and reader for some recipes for cookies that use neither eggs nor milk. Her little girl has an allergy and her diet is very limited. Maybe some of you mothers who have the same problem will help her out.

My thanks for your letters and recipes. Keep them coming, I love hearing from y'll.

The program is part of a study of the senses in the third grade class of Mrs. Alice O'Connell.

The class will study the parts of an eye, and will watch the dissection of a cow's eye by school nurse Mrs. Betty Boykin.

In his presentation, Henegar said that "87 per cent of the blind are gainfully employed as a result of training at schools similar to the San Rafael school."

The dogs, which are also trained at the school, are given free of charge to blind persons, he said. They can keep them as long as they do not beat the dog and are not caught begging on the street.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

MEMBERS OF the newly organized North Peninsula Auxiliary for the Florence Crittenden Home journeyed to San Francisco last week to tour the home and came away busily planning for a second tour and exhibiting new insight and a good deal of enthusiasm for the tasks their group will be undertaking.

Mrs. Doris Plant, publicity chairman for the circle, announced there will be a second tour of the home, scheduled after the organizational meeting of April 17, so that women who join at that time may have the opportunity to become well acquainted with the home's facilities and aims.

Mrs. Plant, who had not seen the home before, observed that her first trip had completely shattered any stereotype opinion she had previously accepted. She observed that the home and the girls reminded her greatly of a college dormitory with small, neat bedrooms, a well-stocked library and a comfortable living room.

According to Mrs. Plant, the afternoon was a "real eye-opening experience" and one that everyone who hopes to help the auxiliary should share.

The April 17 meeting is open to all who want to learn more about the home and to especially anyone who might be interested in joining the auxiliary. The session will be held in the Broadmoor Community center at 10 a.m. No reservations are necessary but the group would appreciate it if persons planning to attend will call Mrs. Evelyn Colman, PL 6-0238, or Mrs. Elizabeth Hopkins, WY 2-0261. Jean Bolten, director of the home will be the featured speaker.

MRS. VINCENT MURPHY is limping about her tasks these days as a result of a fall on the front porch of her home one recent rainy evening.

Mrs. Murphy's foot slipped as she stepped on the door mat and she received a bad sprain and torn ligaments in her ankle. Her doctor estimated she would have to stay off her foot for at least two weeks but she isn't allowing such advice to slow down her busy pace!

Evidence of her contempt of any effort to immobilize her is the party she gave last Sunday afternoon for her niece, Mrs. William Murphy. Thirty-two friends and relatives gathered in the Murphy's Midway avenue home to fete young Elinore Murphy at a baby shower.

☆ ☆ ☆

ANOTHER PARTY, planned for last Saturday, had to be called off when the youthful guest of honor contracted the mumps. Friends and schoolmates of Melinda Frisbie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frisbie of Eighty-seventh street, were eagerly planning to help Melinda celebrate her seventh birthday until the case of mumps became painfully apparent.

TRANSPORTATION problems have caused an unusual situation in the Pacifica area.

Brownie Scouts of Troop 215 come from a very large area and the girls had been having considerable difficulty getting to meetings. But a novel solution has been worked out by the adult leaders of the group.

The girls all have remained in Troop 215 but the troop now meets in two separate places. The Brownies from Banyan, Alicante and lower Manzanita streets meet in the Banyan street home of Mrs. Kitty Rusconi. Brownies from Upper Manzanita street and the Crespi drive area meet with Mrs. Mary O'Connell and Mrs. Patricia Jasperson.

Parents wishing further information about the new arrangements should phone Mrs. Rusconi, 359-2096 or her helper, Mrs. Beverly Jacobs at EL 9-2794 or Mrs. Jasperson at 359-1726.

☆ ☆ ☆

ROBERT LASLEY of Stoneyford drive is home after spending several days in St. Joseph's hospital in San Francisco.

Lasley became ill after an extremely busy schedule had exhausted him physically. Lasley, an instructor at San Francisco City college also is attending the college to obtain his Master of Arts degree.

☆ ☆ ☆

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD Paul Sanguinetti is convalescing in Kaiser hospital in San Francisco following surgery on his knee.

☆ ☆ ☆

THREATENING weather did little to dampen the spirits of 16 Brownie Scouts of Troop 587 who held a camp out the past weekend. The girls and the adult leaders of the group, Mrs. Jo Burn, Mrs. Eugene Gelphman and Mrs. R. Bud Bonavito, attended an over night camp out at Camp Butano near Pescadero.

☆ ☆ ☆

EXTREMELY successful was last Thursday's Koffee Klatch and fashion show, presented by the Westlake school P-TA group.

Mrs. Carol Dikas, chairman of the annual affair, decorated the multi-purpose room of the school with colorful travel posters and placed miniatures of world famous landmarks on the tables. Gay spring attire, suitable for traveling or staying at home was provided by The Fashion of Westlake.

☆ ☆ ☆

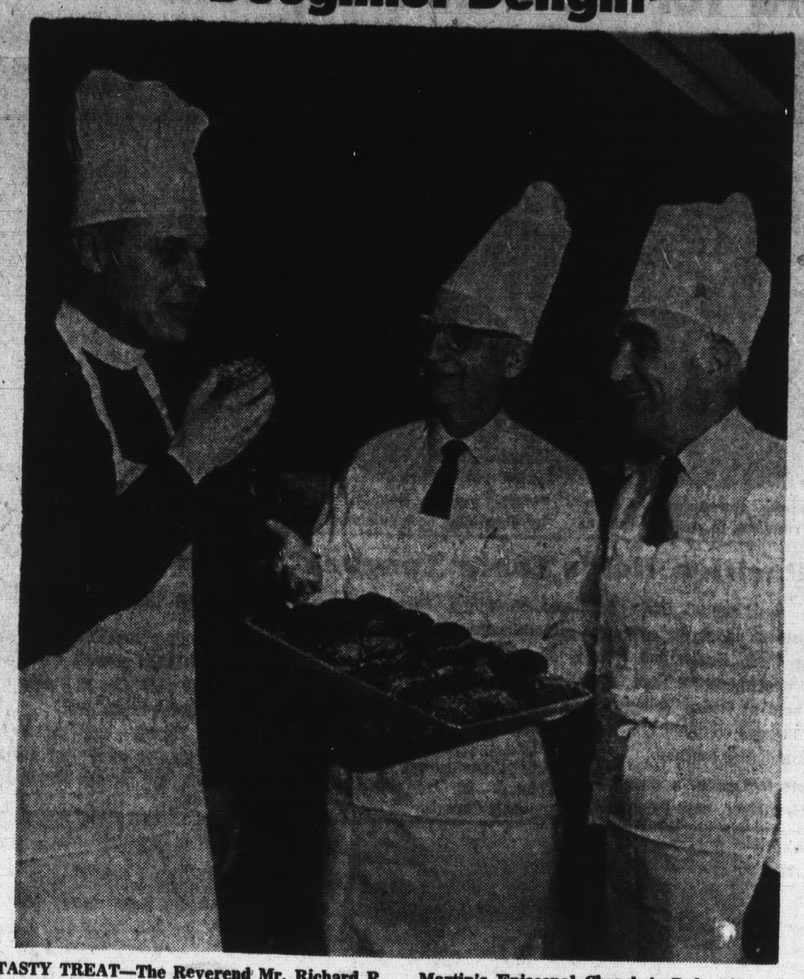

THE JUNIOR high group from Pedro Valley Presbyterian church is putting the finising touches on the items the members have been making for the Easter delight of hospitalized youngsters.

To be donated to the children's ward of a yet-to-be-selected hospital are beautifully decorated egg holders, place mats and tray favors.

ADD LEMON

Next time you're using that bone from baked ham in a split pea soup, add a couple of thin slices of lemon.

Newspaperboys See Film 'Mutiny on the Bounty'

Forty-five San Mateo Times newspaperboys recently took a trip to San Francisco to see "Mutiny on the Bounty." The boys earned the opportunity to go by obtaining new subscriptions.

The boys were picked up late Sunday morning by chartered bus and driven to the Coronet theatre in San Francisco. There, under the eyes of their three adult supervisors, the boys alternately watched the movie, ate popcorn, watched the movie, ate candy, watched the movie, and drank sodas.

At the end of the marathon film, with each boy having gotten his fill of nautical excitement as well as food, they were returned home by chartered bus.

During the past year, Times newspaperboys have had the opportunity to take trips to Disneyland, Santa Cruz, Frontier Village, Candlestick Park, and Washington, D.C.

Boys attending the trip were: from Belmont, John Lewis, Charles Lewis, Tom Warden, Bill Rea; from Burlingame, Gary Goodrich, Bob Goodrich, Mike Munro, Dave Schell; from Half Moon Bay, Bart Pendley, Wayne Albert, Nick DeMeo; from Pacifica, Claude Senn; from San Carlos, Peter Wellons; from San Mateo, Peter Ely, Paul Ely, Bob Gagnon, Scott Johnson, Larry Myers, James Redfield, James Lillard, Sam Jordan, Dennis Denbo, Wesley Strong, David Pope, Mike Clark, Mike Cumpston, Don Clark, Steve Gilsdorf, James Hennessey, Bill Plaetke, Gary Schoenbrun, Fred Thompson, Steve Singleton, James Chanteloup, Phil Frengs, Steve Yelick, Kerry Smith, Bob Cady, David Rutly, Ron Beallamy, Bob Rutty, Tom Anderson, Scott Urban, Ed Cassidy, James Jensen, Mike Reed.

Navy Chief Petty Officer Jack Kelly, representing the chamber, inspected the pack and presented its official flags, a gift from the chamber, to denners who represented the pack.

Den three conducted a candlelight charter installation ceremony under the direction of Cubmaster Art Beighley.

California's Leading Hair Expert Demonstrates Baldness Problems Next 8 Days

S. I. Turoff, director of Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts shows how baldness can be caused by excessive hair fall and dandruff. This famous specialist is offering a free examination and $2.00 demonstration treatment for the next 8 days. Hours: Daily 11 a.m.-8 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Basic Principle of Baldness and Prevention Explained by Expert

Remarkable new methods to prevent baldness and thicken hair will be demonstrated in the next 8 days in an unusual manner.

Noted Expert Speaks

"Probably the greatest single cause of baldness is simply neglect." So says S. I. Turoff, dynamic young director of the Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts. This specialist is well qualified on this subject, being the founder of the large Turoff organization. Over 1 million treatments for scalp problems have been given to thousands of satisfied clients.

Turoff continued, "excessive dandruff, falling hair, itchiness; over dry or oily scalp, thinning or bald spots, these are all danger signals from nature. You might think that with such warnings of approaching baldness, an intelligent person would act fast to prevent it. Unfortunately, this is not always so."

Wrong Belief on Baldness

Turoff reflected, "there are so many outdated thoughts and beliefs on the hair, it is easy to put yourself in a frame of mind where nothing is done, and one mistaken belief is that baldness is "natural," and due to age. This is nonsense. Science has proven hair grows fastest from 35 to 60 years of age. Another belief is that baldness is inherited. If this were true, why would a person have hair, for say, 30 years. We can inherit the tendency, not baldness itself."

Turoff continued, "however, the most foolish belief of all is that nothing can be done. The Turoff Hair and Scalp people have become California's leading organization in this field because we have proven that thought wrong — to thousands of happy clients. Our records show we can help 95% of the people we examine, we do not accept those that are hopeless, because of systemic complications, or those that are slick bald. We are concerned with one thing — the amount of hair you still have, and this includes fuzz. If a hair root is still there, that hair can be improved. You get thicker hair because of one fact — a healthy scalp grows hair, where roots are still alive. This fact can not be disputed! Turoff examination is free, the treatment is pleasant and relaxing. Our hours are very convenient for working people. Worried about cost? Let's just say — the bulk of our business is from average working people. They all agree our rates are reasonable, and this small fee is a fine investment indeed for a head of hair instead of baldness.

Offers $2.00 Trial Treatment Next 8 Days

For skeptics, we are making a very special offer. Come to your nearest Turoff office in the next 8 days. If the free examination shows we can help you, your first Turoff treatment will cost you just $2.00 (no obligation.) This experience will surprise and delight you. It may change all your ideas about letting yourself go bald. Spend that $2.00 and let us prove this to you. Hurry in soon.

FROM 89 to 91

Clothier, Jewelers Will Open

The Westlake Shopping center's family of stores adds two new members this week — boosting the number of stores from 89 to 91.

The new members are Cable Car Casuals, a clothier for young women, and Kay's Jeweler's, one of the nations largest jewelry chains.

The two businesses are in a new four-store block in the center that will be formally opened Friday.

The other stores are Westlake TV & Hi-Fi and Bloom's Fine Shoes. They previously opened their doors.

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, officials of Cable Car Casuals and Kay's and members of the Henry Doelger company, owners of the center, will be on hand for the opening.

Cable Car Casuals, featuring the Koret of California line of clothing, will open for business today.

Owner is Sheldon R. Steckel, formerly a resident of the Westlake area, who operates a campus clothing shop in Berekely near the University of California.

The new outlet will carry clothes Steckel says will appeal to the suburbanite and that will be ideal for city-country living.

Sizes will range from junior 5 to 15, junior petite 3 to 11 and misses' 8 to 18, the main grouping.

Clothing will include skirts, sweaters, blouses dresses, coats, T-shirts, shorts, bermudas and other casual attire.

The store will feature the Botany brand exclusively.

During the first week of business, Cable Car Casuals will give away three coordinated Koret wardrobes. Charms will be given to all first-week visitors.

In opening a store in Westlake, Kay's Jeweler's boosts its nationwide chain operation to 178 outlets.

Founded in Reading, Pa., in 1915, the company has grown to become one of the most extensive operations of its kind in America.

The new outlet is designed for customer convenience, according to Rene (Bill) Manzini, who has been appointed manager.

Manzini is well known in the Bay Area, having managed several of Kay's outlets in this region. He has been in the retail jewelry business for many years.

The new outlet will carry a complete line of jewelry and an assortment of appliances as well.

Grand opening is scheduled for Friday.

Westlake's Family Grows

NOW IT'S 91!—Completion of Kay Jewelers and Cable Car Casuals quarters brings to 91 the number of stores in the Westlake Shopping Center. The two new retail outlets, located on the Westlake mall, will celebrate their grand openings this week.

Baseball Used In Teaching U. S. History

As if in preparation for the Ram's first ball game this month, Westmoor Hilltoppers of Richard McCormac's U. S. history classes have taken to the diamond, but with a purely academic intent: to learn American history through baseball.

Initiated only two weeks ago, the indoor sport calls for division of the class into two teams, both of which have been "coached" by McCormac.

After being thrown a history question by one of the opposing team, a player at bat has but one chance to make good before he strikes out, the practice improving his average for the "big game" this month, the final exam.

After each team has had a chance at bat and all points are tallied, the winner is announced, for, while a batter of Mantle's repute receives no monetary compensation, he does receive something nearly as valuable —

Before

THIS IS how the de Young building looked in 1961 before modernization into the new headquarters of Home Mutual Savings. The building was erected in the 1890s and was the first steel frame structure in San Francisco.

After

HERE IS an artist's conception of how the former de Young building has been modernized for Home Mutual Savings. Formal grand opening of the building was held Monday.

Home Mutual Modernizes Old Building

One of San Francisco's most venerable buildings has received a face-lifting to become the new home of the Home Mutual Savings and Loan association, founded in San Francisco in 1885.

The 78-year-old institution is one of the three oldest savings associations in Northern California. The company operates a branch in the Westlake Shopping center.

The company's new home is the former de Young building at the intersection of Market, Kearney and Geary streets in downtown San Francisco.

The first steel-skeleton structure in San Francisco, it was one of the few buildings in the city's downtown to survive the 1906 earthquake and fire.

Home Mutual has invested more than $1.6 million in the building.

A major modernization program was started 18 months ago, and is now completed. Grand opening ceremonies were held Monday.

The 17-story structure is faced with combined structural glass, aluminum and porcelain-enamel steel panels.

At street level, the exterior is of white marble from the same Vermont quarry that supplied the marble for the Jefferson Monument in Washington, D. C.

The building actually comprises three structures. The de Young Tower building on Kearny was left virtually untouched by the 1906 fire.

The structure at Kearny and Geary was almost demolished in the earthquake and rebuilt the next year.

The third building, facing Market street, also survived the destruction.

Special features of the modernization include a television system for handling customer savings transactions.

Also included is a new air-conditioned system that services the main lobby and lower level.

Together with its Daly City office, the association operates five offices in the greater San Francisco area.

Resources of the company now exceed $200-million.

Pete's Chevron station at 2089 Junipero Serra boulevard reported to Daly City police last week that an air impact tool, valued at $140, was missing.

Four Hurt In Crash

Four persons were injured in a two-car collision in front of 2157 Junipero Serra boulevard, Daly City, about 12.15 Monday morning.

Treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for cuts and bruises were:

Renee M. LeTourneau, 18, of 110 Wilshire boulevard, driver of one of the autos. She was cited by police for following too close behind another car.

Allan J. Weiner, 26, of Berkeley, driver of the other car.

Lydia Morrison, 21, of San Francisco, a passenger in Weiner's car.

Treated at Peninsula hospital for lacerations was Anna Silacci, 18, of 239 Miriam street, Daly City. She was a passenger in the LeTourneau auto.

Police said the collision occurred as Weiner was making a left turn into a driveway.

A New Rage on the Coastside

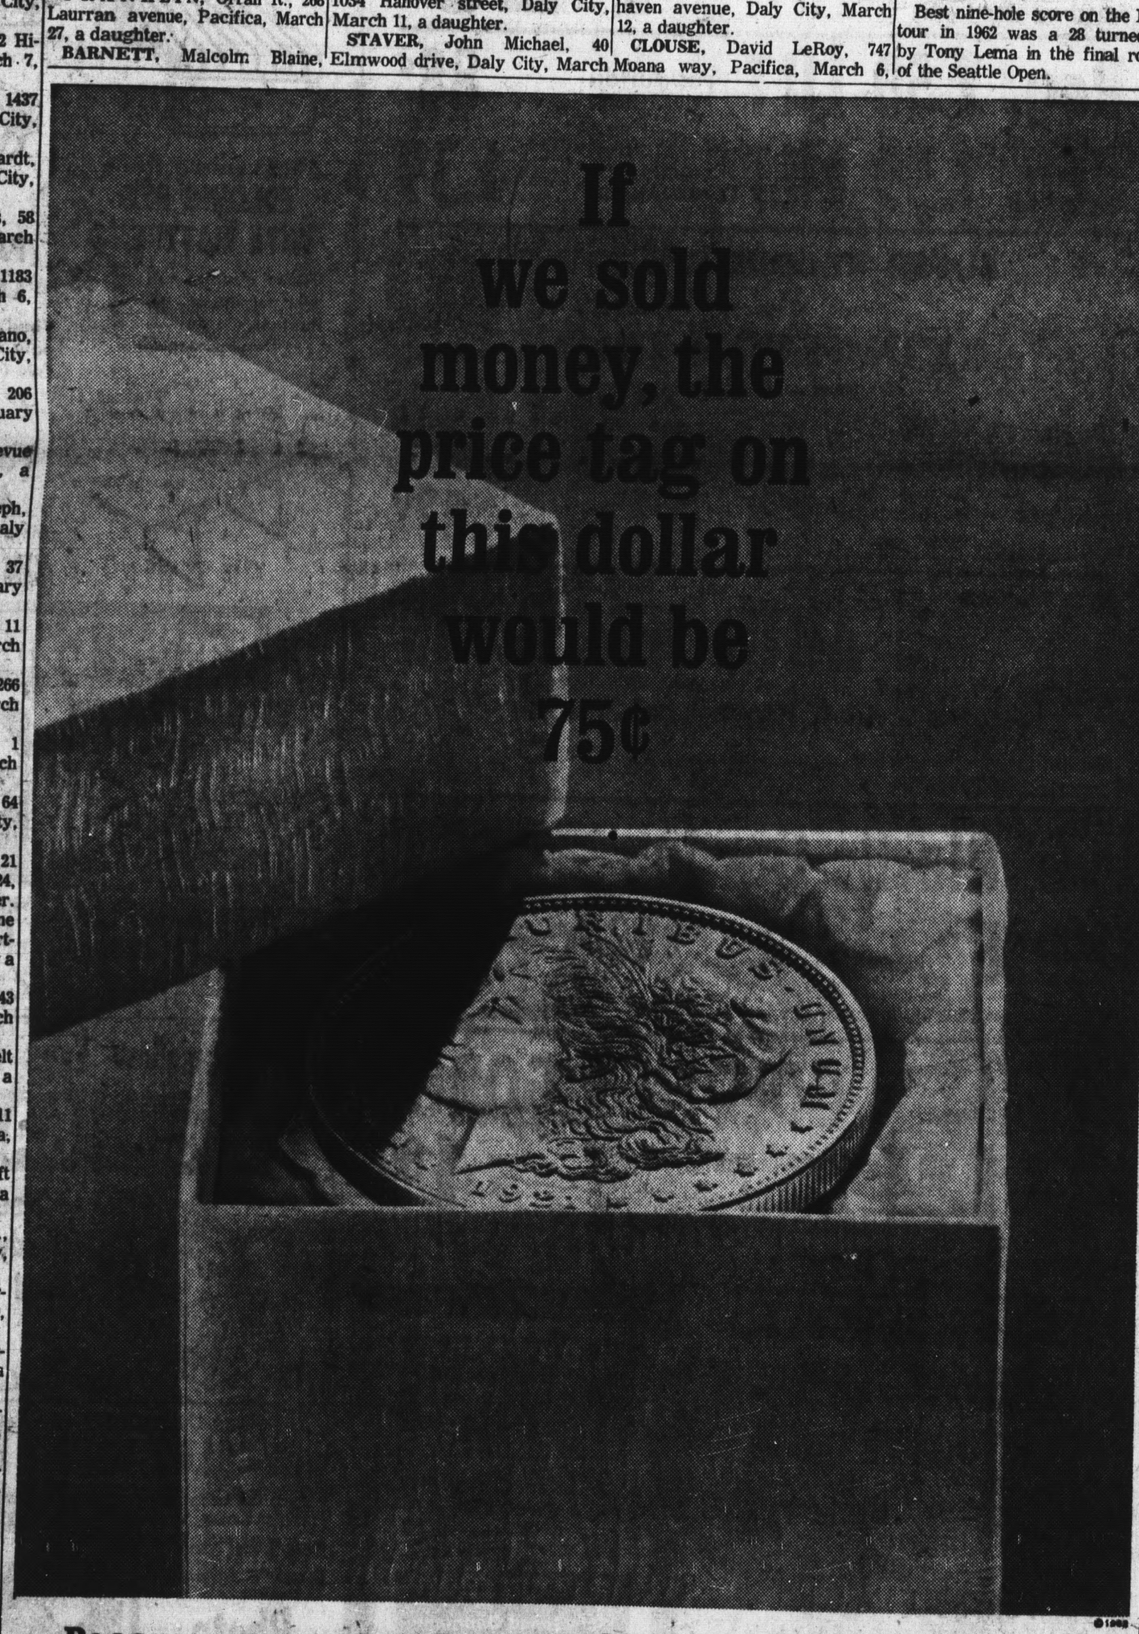

AND AWAY WE GO—Newest sport to arrive along the North County coastlinue is sandboarding. Adherents say it may sweep the nation. The idea is to use a small plywood board and wait until a large wave deposits a layer of frothy water on the beach—then slide as far as you can on this layer with the board as your vehicle. One advantage over surfboarding, youngsters claim, is that you don't have to get wet to participate.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

THEY HAD an assembly line of sorts going last week at St. Mary's hospital in San Francisco.

It operated between a ward in the children's section and surgery. Aboard were five children—ranging in age from four to 14.

They were brothers and sisters, the children of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Franks of 605 Heather court, Pacifica, and they were in the hospital to have their tonsils removed.

Now, a tonsillectomy in most families has become a fairly standard occurrence. But when you have five at one time, things start to get a bit hectic.

At least, that was the sometimes-amusing, sometimes-frantic experience of Mom and Dad Franks.

The parents had their tonsils removed when they were kids. Two married daughters also went through the same experience.

You might say the Franks family had a solid backlog of tonsillectomies upon which to fall back for guidance.

So when the family physician, Dr. Robert R. Wall of Pacifica, advised the parents a year ago that the tonsils of the five children should go, Mr. and Mrs. Franks were mentally prepared.

★ ★ ★

FOR ONE REASON or another, however, the mass migration to the hospital was put off and put off until Dr. Wall advised a month or so ago that the tonsillectomies should be performed before Spring's harvest of colds, flu, mumps and the like rolled around.

"We had been trying to delay this thing until it wouldn't interfere with school," Mrs. Franks explained.

Four of the children are students. Sandy, 5, attends Pacific Heights. Billy, 8, and Betty Jean, 10, are enrolled at Westview. And Artis, 14, is a freshman at Oceana. Carroll, 4, is a year away from kindergarten.

About a month ago, the Franks flashed the green light to Dr. Wall to arrange for surgery, hoping that it might not be until Easter school vacation before the children would enter the hospital.

"When we didn't hear from him for a week, we went ahead with previous plans to start painting and remodeling things around the house," Mrs. Franks said. "Then one day, right when we were in the middle of the fixing-up, Dr. Wall phoned and said, 'well, I've got them all booked into the hospital a week from today.' "

A pained silence followed while Mrs. Franks surveyed the house around her and contemplated the preparations necessary for packing five kids off to surgery.

★ ★ ★

WHY FIVE children at one time?

"Dr. Wall and the hospital convinced me it would be better," the mother said. "They figured the younger ones wouldn't be afraid if the older children were along."

(Seems that old bromide, "misery loves company," might be appropriate here.)

At any rate, Mrs. Franks went on, the idea seemed good until the day after the operation when her children were in the hospital, convalescing, and she was home making up beds and washing dishes—"something I hadn't done in years because the children had done these tasks."

"In fact," she added, "I was about ready to go into the hospital myself and let the kids come home."

From all indications, the Franks children took the news of their impending surgery in rather remarkable high spirits.

"They were really anxious about it," Mrs. Franks recalled. "I think they had been hearing too much about the ice cream and popsicles they were going to have after the operations."

To help things along, the Franks promised new robes and slippers for the children for their hospital stay. They also agreed to take them out to lunch on the day they entered St. Mary's.

★ ★ ★

WELL, that day finally arrived last Wednesday under sullen and soggy skies—a climatic state of affairs that seemed appropriate for the hectic events that followed.

The children were up about 7:30 a.m. and, in Mrs. Franks words, "just thrilled to death." The Franks' married daughters, Mrs. Stewart Baker and Mrs. Ted Steffen, were on hand to offer sage advice, based on their tonsillectomies.

"They kept telling the children a lot of pain would be involved but it just didn't penetrate," the mother said.

After buying new slippers and robes, Mrs. Franks returned home to find the children dressed in raincoats, ready to leave for the hospital. She found out later they had been in their raincoats and ready for an hour.

Then it was off for the promised luncheon on the town, highlighted by some of the children spilling chocolate milkshakes on clean, newly pressed clothes.

And finally, it was on to the hospital where the first thing the children did was to ask where Ben Casey was and to inquire how late they could stay up watching television.

★ ★ ★

THAT WAS all on Wednesday. The next morning, starting at about 7:30, the tonsillectomy assembly line began to roll when Artis was wheeled into surgery.

The line with Dr. Wall at the controls, rumbled all morning until 11:30 when Sandy, the last of the five, left the recovery room to join his fellow convalescents.

It was about this time that all that bright talk about ice cream, popsicles and television seemed far in the past.

"They were all awake and miserable," Mrs. Franks recalled. "My daughter (Mrs. Baker) and I just about ran from bed to bed, trying to soothe and comfort them."

All in all, nurses at the hospital agreed, the children turned out to be exemplary patients. Even Billy—who at first battled a platoon of five nurses before he would submit to a hypodermic needle.

Billy became inordinately co-operative after the operation when threatened with intravenous feeding if he wouldn't eat.

"When we told him that intravenous feeding required a needle, he just about became panicky," Mrs. Franks said. "It wasn't long before he tackled a glass of tomato juice. He hasn't stopped eating since."

The Fight Against Cancer

CAMPAIGN TALK—Mrs. Dean D. DeWitt of 608 MacArthur drive, Broadmoor, right, residential chairman of the Colma Educational and Fund Raising drive for the American Cancer Society and Mrs. William Harris of 1107 Nimitz drive, Colma, her assistant, talk over plans for the annual house-to-house campaign. The fund drive will run throughout this month. Contributions will be used for research, education and to aid cancer patients in San Mateo county. Mrs. DeWitt is program planning chairman on the area committee of the YWCA, a Sunday school teacher and co-leader of Brownie Scout Troop 594. Anyone wishing to aid in this year's drive may call Mrs. DeWitt at PL 5-4661 or Mrs. Harris at PL 6-0886.

Peninsula Future Economy Is Bright, Panelists Say

A panel of three San Mateo county civic leaders were put in the spotlight Thursday by members of the San Mateo Rotary club, and the questioning ranged from mergers to annexation.

On the receiving end of the questions were David D. Behannon, developer of San Mateo's Hillsdale Shopping Center and one of the key organizers of the county governmental efficiency council and the county development association; San Mateo Councilman Al Wisner, stock broker, and J. Hart Clinton, publisher of The Times.

Toughest question of the day was taken by Bohannon when he answered on what the business outlook for San Mateo and the United States is for the coming year.

Bohannon, after commenting that prophets should stick their necks out, and shouldn't be allowed to hedge, declared that the economic future looks good, both locally and nationally.

Clinton was put on the spot with a question expressing concern with the trend towards newspaper mergers in the larger cities.

He attributed much of the merger pressure to the continuing development of shopping centers, mounting labor costs, and climbing news print costs, and predicted the trend will continue, although not in the public interest.

Suburban Shift

The shopping centers' rise has caused advertisers and subscribers to shift to suburban daily newspapers, Clinton said, which in turn has helped to improve the quality and independence of these publications, making them more and more competitive, and better able to serve the public interest.

He predicted the day may not be far off when there may only be two metropolitan newspapers in San Francisco; and that as a result of the costly strike in New York, one or more newspapers in that city may go under.

Daly City Sterility Suit Filed

Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Zucker, 878 Southgate avenue, Daly City, Thursday filed a $25,000 damage suit against Dr. James Ownby Jr. of San Francisco, claiming that an operation which was supposed to make the husband sterile did not work.

Mrs. Zucker gave birth to their fourth daughter 10 months after the vasectomy performed by Dr. Ownby, the suit charges.

Zucker said this is, in effect, a breach of warranty.

Dr. Ownby said: "One does the best one can, but there's no guarantee."

The complaint said Dr. Ownby performed the operation April 6, 1962, that Mrs. Zucker became pregnant a month later, and that she gave birth to a daughter, Cynthia, February 19.

"We're happy to have Cindy," Mrs. Zucker said, "but it's a matter of economics."

Coast Planners, Council Fail to Reach Accord

Pacifica city cooouncilmen and planning commissioners failed to reach agreement last week during a second joint study meeting to review how some 2300 acres at the southeastern corner of the city should be developed.

Members of both city bodies differed on whether tract type homes such as already have been developed in the Linda Mar area should be allowed to expand eastward in Pedro Valley or a higher valuation development such as garden apartments should be encouraged.

Planning Consultant Edward Robinson, who has suggested a special study of the area, was asked to summarize a five-page report on the area into one page in time for another joint meeting between councilmen and planners.

Pacifica Endorses Library Proposal

Pacifica city councilmen last week were asked to endorse a county proposal that a special library tax be increased as much as 10-cents per $100 of assessed valuation to finance complete facilities at a yet to be constructed Sharp Park branch library.

Mrs. Shirley Majchrzak, representing the Friends of the Pacifica Library, reviewed proposals by the county either to raise its county-wide 16-cent library tax by 3-cents or to increase the tax on a zone basis, under which communities most benefited would have the greatest increase.

Under the latter proposal a basic 13-cent county tax would be increased to between 22 and 23-cents in Pacifica to finance a new Sharp Park library. If the city wants complete facilities at the new library such as a reading room, the tax would be increased an additional 3-cents, bringing it to 26-cents per $100 of assessed valuation, Mrs. Majchrzak said. She said her group recommended the full increase to finance full library facilities.

While accepting the Friends of the Pacifica Library report in principle, councilmen agreed additional discussion is needed with county officials before an official endorsement is made.

The council endorsed Assembly Bill 590 which would give state aid to local library systems.

In other actions, the council:

Agreed to call a special study meeting to study drainage problems on four lower lots on Adobe drive.

Rezoned a series of lots in the new Willow Brook subdivision from R-1 to R-1B to assure they will be kept a larger size.

Discussed at length a recommendation that an additional $3500 be allocated to pay for planning consultant services until the end of the fiscal year.

Another in a Series

MRS. WILLIAM COHENDET, regent of the Anson Burlingame Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is shown with the latest American Historical document to be offered by The Post, "Battlefields of the Revolution." The document is in two colors and is available for 25 cents.

Post Offers Document on Revolution Battlefields

The document offered by The Post this week is the "Battlefields of the Revolution." This document is in two colors, red and black, on antiqued parchment that looks and actually feels old. It is being offered to the public, for 25 cents, which is our cost, as a public service.

The map and accompanying chronological history, shows the step-by-step progress of the war from Concord to Yorktown. It is intended to bring to life, graphically, the great struggle begun in 1775. This document not only makes the war years interesting to the viewer, but offers an excellent overview of the entire period in one glance.

Other documents in the collection now available include The Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights, Gettysburg Address, portraits of the presidents, Constitution, Star Spangled Banner, prayers of Peter Marshall and history of the flag. During the next three weeks, one additional document per week will become available, to complete the set of 12 American historical documents. Each one of the first nine is now available for 25 cents each.

Documents may be purchased by mail, addressing orders to: The Post, 30 Park Plaza drive, Daly City, or they may be purchased at the office of The Post from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

Police, Fire Meeting Topic

Dan Martin will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Pacifica Republican assembly, 8 p.m. Friday at Vallemar school.

Martin will speak on various aspects of a police and fire commission, an idea currently under consideration by the people of Pacifica.

Martin has served 12 years as an investigator. There will be a question period following the presentation. There will also be a representative from the Republican Central committee with a special message for Pacifica Republicans.

At the previous general meeting, Robert Hale of the Laguna Salada school board spoke on the subject of school unification.

Francis Files Damage Suit

A libel suit asking $4,725,000 damages was filed last week in San Mateo County Superior Court by former Assemblyman Louis Francis. Named as defendants were the San Mateo County Union Gazette, Sheldon F. Sackett, Olympic Press and the California Labor News Service.

Francis cited several editorial items published, including one entitled "Francis Petition—Ultra-Right Fraud," in his suit, which claimed that he had been subjected to contempt and ridicule as a result of the published articles. He charged that statements published were false.

The publication was "wilfully, wantonly and maliciously calculated to and did embarrass, humiliate and disgrace plaintiff and did expose him to public hatred, contempt, ridicule and obloquy and tendedt o injure him in his profession as an attorney at law and a public officer, and wilfully, wantonly and maliciously was calculated to induce a bad and evil opinion of plaintiff in the minds of residents of said city, counties and state, and to cause him to be shunned or avoided by them, and to deprive him of their friendly and respectful association and society," the suit alleged.

Lola M. Brown, 18 Palmdale avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had stolen two checks from her mail box.

Whitmore Reassigns Deputies

Extensive reassignment of duties for some of his top deputies has been ordered by Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore.

Inspector William Ridenour will be transferred from the juvenile bureau to take over Minehan's duties as court and complaint officers. Ridenour will also assume the duties of senior inspector of the criminal division.

Sgt. Forrest Paull will replace Ridenour as officer in charge of the juvenile bureau. He will continue his duties as chief polygraph examiner. Deputy Vern Baldridge will be transferred from the patrol division to the juvenile bureau. Baldridge and Deputy Ray Bouscal will be trained as assistant polygraph examiners. Deputy Paul Hale will be transferred from juvenile to assume some of the duties now handled by Paull.

Sgt. Everett Heagney, who is due to retire next year, will be transferred from the records division to the investigation bureau

Lt. Peter Bolich will take over as officer in charge of records and also be liaison officer between that department and the criminal division.

Lt. Donald Hartnett will take over the duties of captain of the criminal division in the captain's absence, and will be in complete charge of the sheriff's office on weekends.

Lt. Herbert Elvander will be in charge of the office on the night shift.

Scholarships For Nurses Available

Five scholarships for study of nursing and other needed skills in the care and treatment of sick people are being offered by the San Mateo county chapter of the National Foundation with March of Dimes funds.

"The current shortage of qualified nurses locally is one of the chief reasons the San Mateo county chapter is supporting scholarships in this and allied medical fields," according to Chairman James J. Kehoe, of the local county March of Dimes chapter.

A selection committee has been named by Chairman Kehoe to select high school seniors and college students from those who apply for the five health awards being made available through the March of Dimes funds contributed by the public in the recent 1963 "Silver Anniversary" March of Dimes campaign.

This committee, he explained, is to "screen qualified applicants for five awards in the health professions being awarded by this chapter in 1963."

Committee members include: Paul V. Claudon, principal at Capuchino High school in San Bruno; Dr. Thomas E. Farthing with offices at 6 El Cerrito avenue in San Mateo; Mrs. Leonard Offield, wife of Doctor Offield of 130 Stonehedge road in Hillsborough; Father James O'Shaughnessy. assistant pastor of St. Bartholomew's church in San Mateo; and Philip D. Morse, director of student personnel at San Mateo college, a resident of San Carlos.

Applicants for the health awards may be filed by high school seniors to study nursing, occupational therapy or physical therapy; or by "a currently enrolled sophomore in a regionally accredited college entering the junior class in the fall of 1963."

Full House Business Barney's, Lake Tahoe

For a club that doesn't feature entertainment, except that which is provided by the customers, Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada, does a "full house" business.

All employees are personally trained by Owner Barney O'Malia. Two hundred slots, gaming tables of all varieties, Keno games upstairs and down, and special tables for those who enjoy stud poker.

The restaurant includes a counter and comfortable leather booths. During your breakfast, lunch or dinner meals, a young lady goes around to see that you don't miss a chance to play Keno. As of this writing, there is one bar on the ground floor of Barney's Casino. Another bar and snack bar is being installed on the second floor.

Barney's Casino is open 24-hours a day—with Greyhound Bus service right to the club's door. All the bonus refunds that other clubs offer are also available here. If you prefer a flight to Lake Tahoe, arrangements may be made by phoning Paradise Airlines (562-6523).

Barney's Casino may not be the largest club in this area, but it's growing, growing, growing. Barney O'Malia has been scanning hotel blue prints and I would take the odds that another hotel will soon be added to the Lake Tahoe (South Shore) skyline—flying the O'Malia colors.

ED SULLIVAN
Hyatt House

Ed Sullivan Wears Big Smile

"Johnny Kan's at the Hyatt House" is now open and serving the best in "Kan-Tonese" food. Enjoyed dinner and a long chat with Mr. Kan and Hyatt House Manager Ed Sullivan, whose Irish smile is brighter than ever, last Tuesday evening. It was Mr. Sullivan who first interested Johnny in bringing his "pots and pans" to Burlingame—a food idea that should prove an excellent business move for both parties.

Kan's is located upstairs in the area occupied by the Executive Club. Restaurant service from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday. Balance of the Hyatt House operation buzzing along as usual—and unusually good.

Lew Lehr shaved his mustache off — and now his wife, Edith, won't talk to him. "He looks like a stranger." Lew's thinking about starting a new hunk of foliage.

Larry and Lola, Bertolucci's brother and sister restaurant team, report they have been booking many banquets—some of which are scheduled for 250 persons.

Nob Hill Trio To the Derby

Big news from the Redwood City Derby Club: The Nob Hill Trio will be in the featured spot tonight. Ths Trio needs no musical introduction to the Bay Area—having entertained from Nob Hill to El Cerrito.

Also on the same bill: The Exotic Dances of formful Misses.

According to my Pacifica spy, Mary Ann "Miss Show Business of the Coast" Hay: Wilbur Clark of Las Vegas Desert Inn fame was a mid-week luncheon visitor at Nick's. I'm thinking Nick Gust will have his golf bags and the book "Six Easy Lessons on How to Make a Hard Eight" tucked under his arm for a Vegas invasion, in the very near future.

It was due to public demand that Brentwood Lodge owners decided to keep the restaurant open until 11:30 p.m. daily. With the days getting longer, it's proving a big biz boom.

Gary Long

GARY LONG, a San Mateo lad with talent plus, is currently entertaining at the piano in the swank Holiday Inn cocktail lounge. . . Old Hickory Bar-B-Q is one of the three Farmers Market locations operated by Mr. Alfred Ansara and his two sons. The other two locations are the Big Top and Doug's Fountain. The Ansara family also operates Borden's, Fourth Avenue, in downtown San Mateo, which is not only a very busy spot during the day, but also during the evening hours since their inauguration of dinner menus which are changed nightly . . . Club Waldorf, well known as an entertainment headquarters, is equally famed for serving bargain-priced lunches and dinners. . . Mary Knudsen is already planning her Denmark House Easter menu—and you can be sure it will be a dandy. . . Have always known Sil Oliva was an expert fight handicapper, but not until this Bay Meadows meet did I find out he is also pretty fair at collecting $2.00 win tickets . . . Frank Torres has just received a fresh supply of abalone shells which he uses for ashtrays at his Montara Beach Hotel. If you'd like to buy some, they're available in the gift department here.

Shelley Berman

SHELLEY BERMAN, one of the real wits on the stage, opens Tuesday in the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel. Berman's hilarious comments on the telephone are comedy classics. He was a recent subject of an hour-long TV show on the life of a comedian who had everyone buzzing, due to the unique way his antics were photographed. Rosemary Clooney closes Sunday at the Fairmont . . . Paul Mantee, handsome son of the Fior d'Italia's George Marianetti, plays a starring role in a forthcoming "Ben Casey" TVer . . . Dave Rapken has come up with a dazzling new song star at his Moulin Rouge. She's Valerie, a Chicago girl with a million buck figure, a fine voice, and an array of silver blonde hair. All adds up to "dazzling," as I said . . . Dined at Rocca's on Golden Gate Avenue, recently? If not, you're missing a bet. Your host Lou Rocca, Jr., does everything possible to see that you enjoy yourself . . . Wednesday Fashion Show Luncheons have resumed at the Hotel Canterbury on Sutter . . . On exhibit at the Atherton Club is a full size suit of armor. The suit was tailored by the last armor-maker left in Spain, and it may be the last suit of armor ever to come out of that country.

Emerson Murfee

EL PICADOR has done it again! Only last November the glamorous, new restaurant was featured—along with Emerson Murfee's other great establishments, the Villa Chartier and The Lanai—in the internationally-circulated Diners Club magazine. Now they have just had a preview of the April Diners magazine, which will have more than 1,000,000 readers. Here's first item in Dining Recommendations: "The Spanish specialties including tortillas, guacamole dip, tacos and Picador special mixed green salad at El Picador of Redwood City, California." . . . Al St. Claire, who has become one of the most popular stars of the year at Finocchio's in San Francisco, is also the most accomplished in all lines of music. Before becoming a female impersonator, he was an orchestra leader, a concert pianist and a featured singer with big-name bands. . . Many new faces at The Fireside during the Wednesday through Saturday night dance sessions since The Naturals took over the bandstand.

R. Neal Smith

SEEMS EVERYTIME NEAL SMITH, top man at the Old Stanford Barn in Palo Alto, takes me on a restaurant and market tour I wind up with enough food to stock a bomb shelter. There are so many appetizing items for that late-evening snack (the time of night you should forget food) that it's no wonder my weight is creeping up the scales. Neal eats whenever he feels like it—rich foods or diet foods—he has no weight problem. . . Bright Lights puts the spotlight on May Castro, who is in a coleslaw salad class by herself. What this lady can do to cabbage at her Mardi Gras Sidewalk Cafe is amazing. . . The organ entertaining by Bill Langford at the New Southern is well worth a dine and cocktail visit. Many of the Bay Area's organists gather here to tap a foot to Bill's notes. . . It's a pleasure to walk into Doug Hart's Mori's Point Inn and see a full house enjoying dinner—and to hear them later congratulate Doug on his excellent food. He has worked long and hard to put this Pacifica "Inn" over—and has succeeded in a big way.

Phil Rauscher

GEARY "BIG AL" LEASON might be interested to know that Don Obertone, his Gashouse banjo player, is capturing the hearts of the fair sex to the extent they plan a Don Obertone Fan Club. A little gal by the name of Pat (last name withheld by request) asked me to get the ball a-rolling—and so be it. . . Guido and Joe, the J and G Restaurant duo, have listened to their customers talk about football, baseball and basketball for so long that now when the "ball subject" is mentioned they suggest "meat balls," one of the restaurant's specialities. . . Keith Williamson, "Thomas Edison" of the chicken business, has expansion plans. Additional space will soon accommodate banquets and private parties at his Chicken, Steak and Seafood House in Burlingame. . . Ling's Chinese food take outs and eat ins (especially the sweet and sour boneless chicken) have caught on in great style. . . Added bar space at the Phil Rauscher managed International Inn Restaurant makes this an ideal rendezvous for the early and late cocktail hour set. . . Parking space galore for the Fisherman's Wharf Franciscan visitors—and right next door.

Jack Holder Now Has Four Locations

Jack Holder, better known as "Uncle John" in the Peninsula and San Jose, has added another Uncle John's franchise to his list. Namely, the Palo Alto Pancake House, 3150 El Camino Real, which is now open and doing business. Other Uncle John's Pancake Houses are in Millbrae, Santa Clara and San Jose. Groups up to 200 persons may be accommodated for private parties.

Enrico Romano, Pacifica pizza and Italian food gent, overheard the following at his bar: "She'd swap her husband for two books of stamps."

"No matter what you may think, or how things are being done in Washington," said Frank Schy, Horky's Mexican food boss, "you gotta hand it to the Internal Revenue Department."

Red Lion Inn Fashion Shows

The first day of spring was officially celebrated with a fashion show at the Red Lion Inn featuring Livingston fashions. Guests of honor were committee chairmen for the San Francisco Garden Club and Ikebana International, San Francisco Bay Area Chapter Spring Flower Show, including Mrs. George Panoretos of Hillsborough and Graham Miller, A. I. D. show designer. Livingston fashion shows will be featured at the Red Lion Inn each Thursday from 12:30 to 1:30.

'Monica' Makes Kitchen Click

"Monica," the Mountain House Miss whose "kitchen personality" has sparked the restaurant section, prepares a special dish for each evening. You don't know what it is until table time, which gets under way at 6:30 p.m.

Tip from this corner: Visit the Mountain House restaurant on a Thursday evening for a "Family Night" dinner—and be sure and bring the kiddies. Tab for this full course event is just $1.50. Monica is a member of the Filipino-American Society of California and informs me that they are holding a Bataan Day Memorial Dinner at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel on April 9. Tickets are available at the restaurant.

STEPHANIE HILL, one of the many "Bare Facts" why "South Pacific" is such a smash hit at the Las Vegas Thunderbird Hotel.

Erwin Best's New Recipe

The popular Ramos Fizzes now being served at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel at 85 cents are only 50 cents when served with any club breakfast in the Greenwillow Room. Highly recommend Mr. Erwin Best's new fizz recipe—which he has promised to pass along to Yours Truly.

Schlegel's New Menu Prices

Schlegel's of Burlingame has started a new luncheon and dinner policy in a new price bracket. Chef Bill Mallory, owner of this pop spot, is now serving lunches from 95 cents; complete dinners from $1.50. Same high standard and top quality food, plus home made pies, cakes, and rolls that are the talk of the town.

'Ole' Hours A Sinaloa Attraction

Another new addition to the Sinaloa beverage schedule: "Ole Hours" from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., seven nights a week, during which time bar whisky, Scotch, martinis and manhattans are served for only 50 cents. The "No cover charge for those having dinner" policy has caught on big with the early and late evening patrons.

Raquel and Manolo, a flashing dance team of Spain, will join the show Monday, April 1. The following Monday, April 8, Gloria the "It Girl" returns by popular demand. "Holiday in Mexico," one of the cantina's biggest show attractions, has been playing to nightly capacity houses.

Phil Lehr's celebration of the tenth anniversary of his downtown Steakery brought out a huge throng of well-wishers and friends, with the bewhiskered Lehr lad getting congratulations on all sides. A happy event.

Red meat tip of the week: Roast beef cut to order (rare, medium, or well done) at Danilo's. Outside catering is another restaurant specialty.

Roses Require Protection From Strong Breezes

There is probably no single environmental factor (other than bad water) that makes roses suffer and fail faster than wind. Roses like breezes, but strong winds, even when relatively humid, always seem to result in small foliage, flowers and plants.

In spite of this, even the windiest garden can have, and should have, good roses. All that is needed is a little shelter. This can be provided by buildings, fences, or shrubbery with little expense being involved and usually with considerable secondary advantages such as better landscape design, and a more pleasant yard to enjoy.

A few rules need to be learned. The first of these is that wind DOES blow around corners, a corollary of which is the fact that a square house or building will not provide shelter from the wind. A second rule is that a fence or wall will provide shelter for a distance somewhat less than its height. Finally, as far as plants are concerned, an obstacle that breaks the wind rather than blocking it is best and one that also adds humidity to dry winds is ideal.

The trend in modern home design to include an unroofed, open court, called an atria, or similar areas in the basic building plan is a desirable solution to the wind problem. However, walls, fences, and hedges of almost infinite size, shape, and substance can be equally or even more effective. In a Tokyo home garden we observed a 10-foot high barrier of one-inch mesh wire. The owner explained that it was built as a wind protection for the rose garden and had proven an effective windbreak. Walls and fences have the advantage of being inanimate. They will not compete with roses for food, water or root-space. However, theoretically the finest windbreak for roses is shrubbery.

Shrubbery does not block the wind completely. The breezes that find their way through an appropriate hedge are measurably moister than the wind from which they came.

Conservation Study Planned

The thirty-first annual Field Science and Conservation Workshop will be held in Santa Barbara beginning July 29. This workshop is under the auspices of the University of California Extension.

The program, offered in cooperation with the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History, the California Conservation Council, and the Santa Barbara Botanic Gardens, features outdoor field classes in seashore life, western trees, native birds, astronomy, rocks and minerals, archaeology, and elementary science methods. Two units of professional credit are offered.

Coordinating the workshop will be Dr. Percy Krich, assistant professor of education at the Santa Barbara campus. Dr. Krich will teach sections in elementary science methods. Instructors of other sections will be selected from the staff of the University of California, Santa Barbara, the Santa Barbara museum of Natural History and from other institutions in the conservation community. General sessions will include field trips, films and lecture-demonstrations on wild life and conservation and invitational tours of Santa Barbara and Montecito estates and gardens.

A special list of recommended off-campus housing facilities, both private and commercial, can be provided upon request. Further information and a copy of a brochure giving full details may be obtained from University Extension, University of California, Santa Barbara, Calif.

HOME & GARDENS

Plan Needed For All Year Plant Color

By IVA NEWMAN

Every Peninsula gardener who dedicates himself to the goal can have color in his garden the year round. Not always the lush color of spring and summer perhaps, but color none-the-less and more often plentiful than not. Year round color calls for planting to a plan and what better time than now, when the urge to work in the garden is so strong, to start such a plan.

There are many "tools" in the plant world by which this 12-month succession of bloom may be achieved. You can make use of bulbs through at least nine months of the year; annuals can be used through all 12. Then, there are shrubs, vines, trees and perennials to lend permanence, and some of these come near being everblooming themselves in our mild Peninsula winters.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggest that you take the seasons one by one, starting this spring, and see how easy it is to keep year-round bloom with its attendant color in your garden. We would like to suggest that you watch for and read the nursery ads each week for inspiration. These ads contain news of plants that are usually at the peak of their beauty when the ad comes out. Just last week one of our adverisers offered five plants in full flower. Diosama, "Breath of Heaven," is D ericoides, a heatherlike, semidwarf plant with fragrant foliage and a mass of starry white flowers that start in March and scatter on into summer. Azaleas in many colors and a wide variety of sizes were offered as were Persian lilacs, Syringa persica, a graceful shrub with fragrant clusters of lavender-blue flowers. Beleperone, the "Shrimp plant," a little evergreen that seems never to be without its unusual copperybronze spikes that give it its common name, was one of the five. Also named in the ad was Kerria Japonica, a graceful, rounded shrub that produces a crop of flowers that resemble single golden yellow roses from March through May.

Right now, and for some weeks past, nearly every Peninsula garden has been made bright with camellia blooms. These plants grow so easily and with so little care here on the Peninsula that they could almost be a native. Their blooming season starts in the fall when the dainty sasanquas start opening their flowers and reaches its peak in March when the japonicas and reticulatas bring out a rash of camellia shows. However, these plants don't stop flowering with a March show, they continue on for several weeks, keeping the garden a bright and cheerful place of recreation.

Azaleas are pretty much in the same class with camellias for they provide the Peninsula gardener with a wide choice of beautiful flowering shrubs that seem to fit into our gardens like they originated here. Possibly the best known of these useful plants are the evergreen azalias or Azalea indica. This azalea is the one that is grown by florists for all kinds of winter and early spring gift giving. It has an equally important place in nuseries. Also found in nurseries are the Glenn Dales, a group of larger growing evergreens that come into flower from early April through May. Flower colors in this group are usually very clear and flowers last for two to three weeks on the plant. The Kurumes are taller growing evergreen azaleas, the compact type of kurume has an adult height of three to five feet while the taller types may attain a height of eight feet. These bloom from March through May. In addition there are several named hybrid groups and the brilliant flowered deciduous azaleas. These add up to a very colorful period in the garden when skies are gray.

Another very colorful group of spring-flowering plants that cannot be left out of Peninsula gardens is the magnolias. Some 25 varieties of magnolia are being grown in local gardens. These range from the big Magnolia grandiflora and its many smaller growing hybrids such as "St. Mary" and "Samuel Summers" (products of the Saratoga Horticultural Foundation) to the deciduous shrub types of soulangeana and stellata. The flowering time is from early January through July and August. The best time to plant magnolias is in the early spring, or right now to be exact. They like a moist, rich, well-drained soil and an uncrowded situation. Magnolias are surface rooters as well as deep rooting. The double set of roots holds the heavy tops securely in the strongest winds. The surface roots are the feeder root so do not set other plants too closely as they will interfere with the health and progress of the magnolia. Be sure to keep newly planted magnolias well watered throughout the first and second summer. Once they have become well established the magnolias will take a great deal of neglect.

Flowering trees, such as the cherries, peaches, crabapples and even the regular fruit trees carry masses of beautiful color well into late spring. A planting of late flowering bulbs around the base of one of these flowering trees can create a picture-postcard scene.

Plant of Week

PLANT OF THE WEEK is Helleborus Niger, popularly known as "Christmas Rose," in the Alex Phillips garden, 50 Grand boulevard, San Mateo. Helleborus blooms last for weeks on the plant.

Christmas Rose Is Post Plant

We have written up the Helleborus niger, "Christmas Rose" before, but when friends told us of the Alex Phillips' plant at 50 Grand boulevard, San Mateo, we thought it would be good to bring so worthy a subject up again for honors.

Helleborus niger is loved everywhere for its ability to bloom in the coldest month of the year and to maintain this bloom for weeks, even months. It is a shade-loving plant that makes a handsome clump of foliage all through the non-flowering period. Alex Phillips has found that his plant blooms more profusely if he prunes the foliage in October. The beauty of the leaves prevents us from cutting them but the removal of a few of the center ones will let more light reach the crown and thus promote a greater amount of flowering stems.

This helleborous is one of the group of plants that are notoriously resentful of having their roots disturbed. Friends with large, beautiful clumps are usually very reluctant to disturb them. However, divisions may be obtained by digging a hole close to one side of the clump, exposing some of the roots and a small section of the crown. By using care one or two small sections can be removed from the main crown with a sharp knife. Broken or damaged roots of the sections should be trimmed and the section planted or potted immediately. Add a husky handful of bonemeal to the soil dug away from the mother plant and push it back into the hole, firming it well.

Burlingame Delays Big Apartments

The $18,000,000 high rise luxury apartment project of Burlingame Shore Lands, Inc., failed to gain approval at Monday night's city council meeting — although it wasn't disapproved, either.

The council, in a public hearing on the request for a rezoning of 13.2 acres south of Broadway and between Bayshore and Carolan avenue from industrial to apartments, decided to have the planning commission do some more work on the matter.

Planners voted 3 to 3 originally on the issue of the rezoning and therefore discontinued hearings on the variances requested for the project until the council resolved the split.

And Monday, after the formal council hearing, it became apparent that the council is also split, although the exact ratio is unknown because the issue was not put to a vote. Because Mayor Joseph Lorenz was absent due to illness, the remaining four council members could easily split again 2 to 2.

Meanwhile, the public hearing was continued unanimously until Monday, May 6, so that the planning commission will have time to work out its recommendations on specific details of the project that can be incorporated into a proposed "contract," should the council approve the plan.

Simple Zoning

The major criticism of council members last night seemed to center around the fact that only a simple rezoning was at issue, whereas the project which has been outlined by Burlingame Shore Lands President Oscar Person involves a land use that could be either a headache, or a tremendous asset to the city.

"I want to see the whole package before I make up my mind," Councilman Dave Martin argued. "It would be better if this had come before us under a planned-development rezoning, where all aspects of the project would be fully specified and there would be no loose ends to be tied up later."

Martin's suggestion that the council might be willing to amend its zoning code to put a planned-development zoning on the books for this and future similar projects, however, was rejected by Persons on the ground that this would require a delay of from three to six months when time was at a premium.

The "contract" theory was suggested by Person's attorney, Robert Thompson, who noted that planned-development zoning has not proved a panacea in other cities, and most of the matters which it might cover could be taken care under existing laws through a mutually obligatory "contract" agreement.

City Attorney Buress Karmel indicated he would have to research this point to see if such a contract would have any legal effect, since conditional rezonings are not looked on with favor in the courts.

31 Named To Crusade Policy Team

Thirty-one Bay Area community leaders have been appointed to the United Bay Area Crusade's first campaign policy committee, John R. Beckett, UBAC campaign chairman, announced today.

Initial members of the new committee come from top-level ranks of both business and labor organizations, Beckett, who is president of Trans-America corporation, said. Other civic leaders will be named soon, he added.

Committeemen will assist Beckett and UBAC vice campaign chairman, E. W. Carey, president of Fibreboard Paper Products corporation, in enlisting top volunteer leadership for the October campaign. They will help establish a continuity of leadership by enrolling campaign chairmen for future UBAC programs. The committee will determine campaign strategy and policy and will implement specific development projects on a continuing basis.

Peninsula residents appointed to the committee are Walter A. Haas, Mrs. Madeleine H. Russell, Atherton; B. F. Biaggini, George M. Dean, Paul E. Hoover, Joseph D. McCall, T. S. Petersen and Emmett G. Solomon, Hillsborough; Mrs. Robert Watt Miller of Menlo Park; Charles De Bretteville, Mortimer Fleishhacker, Jr. of Woodside.

Other members of the committee are Robert S. Ash, Warren Brown, Jr., Richard P. Cooley, E. M. Downer, Jr., L. Henry Garland, M.D., A. S. Glickbarg, John H. Hall, Reed O. Hunt, Dr. Clark Kerr, William F. Knowland, Harrison M. Leppo, Robert A. Magowan, Fred H. Merrill, Otto N. Miller, Rudolph A. Peterson, William M. Roth, Mrs. Henry Potter Russell, Erick Sutcliff, Ed Wilson and J. D. Zellerbach.

SHIRES OF ENGLAND
Reminiscent of the country mansions of rural England, this vine-covered grand home stands majestic and stately; amidst towering pines waiting its new master. The immense cathedral living room with its huge roughened brick fireplace, the tremendous size of the bedrooms—the guest room has walk-in closet and sitting room—the size of the dining room, all inspire a feeling of dignity and discriminating living. In addition there is a sun porch, covered patio, breakfast room, den (unfinished), 2-car garage, stove, new 100 gal. water heater, utility room. The garden is delightful—fully landscaped with crazy paving and has water faucets throughout. Separate guest house with bath. To inspect this home is to see yourself living here in seclusion and privacy, breathing the air of California but with the flavor of rural England. Possession is IMMEDIATE.
